Locarno Confab Marks New Era Of Peace

ENVOYS HAPPY OVER RESULTS OF CONCLAVE

Swiss City Celebrates Event
With Fireworks, Music
and Dancing Friday

COOLIDGE VALUES PACT

Great Britain and Italy Guarantors of Belgian-German-French Treaty

Locarno, Switzerland. — (AP) — Eu-ropes security conference ended early Saturday literally in a blaze of glory. Throughout the night there were fireworks, music and dancing to commemorate the final day of five days which the allied and German statesmen have formulated with the idea of a new Europe arising from the old slough of discord.

The delegates have shown their belief that real friendship and cooperation and the burial of past dis-ensions easily can be achieved by continuing the good spirit which was given birth to Locarno. All the statesmen are unanimous that the results attained at the security conference exceeded their secret expectations.

The five treaties are the Rhine pact by which France, Germany and Belgium agreed to refrain from attacking one another with Great Britain and Italy agreeing to act against a violator of the pact. Arbitration conventions between Germany and France, Belgium, Poland and Czechoslovakia are provided for.
In addition, there is an understanding that Germany shall join the League of Nations.

GERMANS PLEASSED

Dr. Stresemann, the German foreign minister, joined Mr. Briand, France's foreign minister in declaring that Locarno must mark the beginning of a new era in the peaceful development of the lives of nations,
based on mutual confidence and good will.

Particularly felicitous were the speeches of the leading delegates at the final conference Friday night
when adjournment was taken with the understanding that the treaties
would be signed in London on Dec. 1.
Washington advices say President Coolidge regards the security pact as one of the most important steps taken in Europe since the adoption of the Dawes plan and as a mark of progress toward another armament conference in Washington.

LOOK TO COOLIDGE

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — Widespread interest attached in official and diplomatic circles Saturday to the disclosure that President Coolidge hopes that the success of the Locarno European security has opened the way for a new disarmament conference in this country.

In the absence of official knowledge of the terms of the group of pacts worked out to give Europe its first real prospect of security since the war, however, definite steps toward the ending of such a conference are unlikely.

Since the Washington government's policy would not permit it to participate in any way in the discussion it was compelled to confine itself to the role of bystander but gave its fullest moral support to the undertaking.

There has been no more definite indication of what President Coolidge
may have in mind toward summoning
a new arms limitation conference
than the statement that he regards
the signing of the security agreements
as going far toward making possible such a move.

HOLY YEAR PILGRIMAGE ENDS IN AIR FATALITY

Wadhurst, Sussex, England. — (AP) — A sad ending has come to a holy year pilgrimage by an American family to Rome in the death in airplane to one of the party and serious injuries to two others.

In the crash of a large Gohin airplane in which they were traveling from London to Paris, Miss Katherine Burk of New York sustained injuries
from which she died shortly afterward.
Her brother, Monsignor Daniel Burk, suffered a compound fracture of the leg, and Joseph Burke, another brother, had both his feet injured and his scalp lacerated. Just what caused the accident is not definitely known.

CHAPEL IN NEW YORK MAY BECOME SHRINE

Mincola, N. Y. — (AP) — Visitors by the thousands are flocking to St.
Martin Roman Catholic church at Central Park, a hamlet near here,
and there is talk of making the little white washed building a shrine church. A stain in the plaster wall, the visitors say has assumed the shape of a madonna and child. They point out a light spot at her throat
as the halo above the child's head a cross held by the child, and a halo appearing above the virgin's head. The Rev. Daniel H. Dwyer, pastor of the church is seeking an explanation of how the stain assumed this shape.
One suggestion is that the stain itself was a natural result of exposure to storm when the building was under construction a year ago.

BLAINE NAMES EQUITY HEAD ON REGENTS BOARD

George A. Nelson, Assemblyman and Cooperative Farmer Leader Is New Choice

Madison. — (AP) — George A. Nelson, Milton, farmer and state assemblyman from Polk-co., is the new member of the University of Wisconsin
board of regents, which meets here Saturday. Mr. Nelson was appointed by Governor Blaine to succeed State Senator C. B. Casperson, lumberman, of Frederic, who resigned.

Mr. Nelson is president of the Wisconsin Cooperative Creamery association and of the Wisconsin State
Union American Society of Equity.
He has been actively engaged in cooperative farm movements for a number of years.

He was born in Milton, November 15, 1873. He was educated in the common schools and worked at farming, lumbering and milling as well as other occupations in 38 states and Canada.
His experience include three years in Alaska gold mining and service as a deep water sailor and on river steamers before returning to his farm in Polk-co.

In politics, Mr. Nelson is ranked as a progressive Republican. He was elected to the assembly in 1920 and was re-elected in November 1922 and in 1924 without opposition.

Senator Casperson is reported to have resigned on account of demands made upon him by private affairs.
The board of regents met Saturday
without any pre-session indicating whether the question of accepting gifts
from incorporated educational endowments would be revived. Meanwhile,
a special committee of the Wisconsin
Alumni association met at the university to resume its consideration of the resolution adopted by the regents in July, refusing to accept in the future donations from foundations similar to the General Education board, whose gifts of $12,500 for medical research resulted in the regent's action.

FEAR FOR WORKMEN IN EASTERN MINE BLAST

Grafton, W. Va. — (AP) — An explosion
in the powder house of the Starford Stripper company mine at Bryden near here Saturday afternoon was followed by a fire in the workings,
according to reports reaching here.
All wires to Bryden were down and it was impossible to learn whether the 14 miners employed in the mines had escaped.

Bulls Start Stampede On New York's Stock Market

New York. — (AP) — The flood gates of speculation, staggering under the load of swollen streams of buying orders pouring from all sections of the country, burst upon floor of the New York stock exchange Saturday and swept prices upward in one of the wildest sessions witnessed in recent years.

The deluge reached its maximum intensity in the motor stocks which were whirled upward from 1 to 7 points on sales running into the hundreds of thousands of shares.
Total transactions of all stocks in the first hour probably ran over 700,000 shares with the official ticker at least eight minutes behind the market.

White Motors soared 7 points to 102 1/4; Yellow cab jumped 5 1/4 to a new record top at 40 1/4; General Motors moved up 5 to a new high at 137; Mack Truck advanced 5; Jordan 4, and Fisher Body 2. The advance in the rest of the list was by no means uniform although early gains of 3 to 5 points were registered by Postum Cereal, American Safety Razor, Cushman's Bakery, United States Iron Pipe and Continental Insurance.

WIFE REGARDS SLAYER HUBBY AS IMPOSTER

Won't Yield Insurance Till She Has Seen Alleged Husband, Believed Dead

New York. — (AP) — Mrs. William Turner who collected $50,000 insurance
after her husband's supposed death
in a Kentucky mine explosion nine months ago believes that William H.
Turner now in the Toms prison is an imposter, although she has not seen him yet.

Mrs. Turner who has been living in Trenton, N. J., with her five children since she considered herself a widow came to New York Friday to take a look at the man who says he is her husband and who was arrested on his return from refuge in Germany. He is accused of murdering two miners by a deliberate explosion and of defrauding insurance companies.

It was after visiting hours when Mrs. Turner called at the Toms and officials told her she could not see the prisoner until Monday.

She offered to return the insurance money if police would show her that "Bill" is really there. The police obtained an order restraining her from leaving the city because she might be needed as a witness. When she returns to Trenton she will find that the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company has attached her $13,000 in securities and $7,000 home.

In Miami, Fla., it develops, a woman recently appeared at police headquarters and said she was Turner's sister, Mrs. F. F. Farley, and that she was ready to return the $50,000
insurance she received after her brother's death. The police had not heard about the case and dismissed her as a crank.
Now they are looking for her.

Turner, in his prison cell blames himself for the whole affair. He and his father-in-law, Joe Jacks, went to Austria together via Norway
after the mine explosion. Turner says, and Jacks is still there, Turner
blames Jacks and his son, Joe Jacks,
for manipulation of electric wires
that caused the premature explosion of a dynamite charge that night.
Jacks, Jr., has been arrested at Williamson, W. Va., on charges similar to those against Turner.

BANDITS GET $45,000 PAYROLL IN CHICAGO

Chicago. — (AP) — Four robbers held up the International Harvester company on One Hundred and Twentieth and escaped with loot of undetermined value.

The police estimated the loot at $50,000. The company's payroll of $45,000 was carried away by the robbers who escaped in a shower of bullets.

The robbery occurred at the plant known as the West Pullman works of the company. Three subordinate officials and several office employees were held up by the robber gang.

BADGERS WIN HARRIER RACE FROM MICHIGAN

Dawes Plan And Locarno Peace Pact Pave Way To Coolidge's Arms Parley

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, D. C. — The next step in the evolution of world peace now is a disarmament conference— or rather to be technically correct a conference to reduce and limit the size of standing armies and further limit the use of naval and aid weapons.

President Coolidge stands ready to call such a conference if the idea is approved by other powers. The League of Nations has prepared to call a conference would defer to the wishes of Mr. Coolidge if he cared to convince the parley sooner than the one scheduled by the League of Nations.

The president has indicated his desire for reduction of armament in several speeches but has always conditioned his promise on the making of a security pact between European nations which would make it possible for public opinion everywhere to approve reduction in military expense
with an assurance of safety.

France has argued for a large army
on two grounds. Germany's inclination to avoid payment of reparations, and the possibility of a German invasion when once France had disarmed. Now the Dawes plan has been set in operation answering the

WOODRUFF BANK HELD UP TODAY

Seven Masked Men Rob Institution and Break Away Toward Rhinelander

Woodruff. — (AP) — Seven masked men entered the State Bank at Woodruff at an early hour Saturday, blew the safe
and escaped with an undetermined amount of loot. All wires leading into town were cut. The men escaped in the direction of Rhinelander. A posse has been formed to join the pursuit.

Hurley. — (AP) — Sheriff Robert Ers-hammer, of Isouco, and several deputies are headed for the scene of the robbery and are watching every road
in the northern section.

MILLIONS LOST WHEN MAIL SACKS BURN

Rouen, France. — (AP) — One hundred sacks of mail bound for the United States were completely destroyed
early Saturday morning in a fire which burned the mail car in which they were being conveyed from Havre to Chevreton.

Fifty other sacks were taken from the debris by postal experts rushed to the scene from Paris. From these $1,000,000 in five hundred dollar bills were saved.

It is believed that the contents of the one hundred sacks destroyed en-braced money and valuables of various kinds worth several million francs.

tion of the northwestern teachers association.

3 KILLED AS PLANES CRASH WITH STORMS

Flier and Two Newspapermen Meet Death Near Scene of Shenandoah Disaster

Wheeling, W. Va. — (AP) — Less than 100 miles from where the giant Shenandoah met with disaster on Sept. 3,
the victim of a storm, 44 planes Friday
were set upon by the elements—rain and fog, and three were killed when one of the planes, "The Honeymoon Express" crashed to earth.

Fourteen of the others were forced down; four returned to Bolling field Washington, where the planes hoped off for their trip west; 14 managed to get through to Dayton, Ohio, and even came down at Langin field, Mountaineer, near here.

The group of planes had participated in the air races at Mitchell field,
New York and were on their way to interior stations, flying by way of Washington. The pilot and two Dayton newspapermen were killed when "The Honeymoon Express" fell near New Salem, Pa., a little town in the rocks region.

Just what happened has not been determined but that their plane must have found it difficult to fly because of the bad weather is attested by the fact that six others were forced down near the scene of the crash.

The men killed were George H.
Burgess, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and stationed at Wilbur Wright field, Dayton; Verne Timmerman, 24, staff photographer for the Dayton Herald and Journal, and Maurice C. Hulton, 23, aviation editor for the same paper.
All were married and leave families.

FINISH AIR QUITZ Washington, D. C. — The president's air board retired to its own counsel Saturday as judges in the long dispu- ted question of the American process in the air.

Satisfied that every angle of the question has been amply explored in the bulging volumes of testimony before it, the board turned to the harder task of drawing conclusions from the mass of controversial opinions and proposals presented during its three weeks of hearing.

Conclusion of the hearings Friday night after final day and night sessions marked by the same conflict of views among army and navy witnesses that has characterized the whole inquiry brought the board Saturday to the question of procedure in preparing its report to President Coolidge.

The president desires to have the report in hand before congress meets in December. The board was appointed at the suggestion of Secretary Dwight F. Davis, now secretary of war, as a means of clearing the atmosphere after Col. William Mitchell's sensational criticism of the army and navy air service administration.

PROFESSORS ARE NOT INFLUENCED BY GIFTS

Madison. — (AP) — Professors at the University of Wisconsin would not be compromised in their convictions
by the university's acceptance of gifts from incorporated endowments, Prof. E. A. Ross of the sociology department testified here Saturday at the alumni investigation of the endowment controversy.

Documentary evidence on both sides of the endowment question which arose from a resolution by the board of regents refusing gifts from corporate foundations in the future
was presented to the special committee of alumni when the inquiry was resumed.

Prof. Ross who says he is known "to be a staunch progressive" submitted a statement to the committee
in which he said: "He never had received money for research other than allowances by the University research committee."

POLICE BAFFLED AS SUSPECT WINS HIS RELEASE ON ALIBI

FRIENDS MAY VIEW BODY OF SLAIN GIRL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

While it is the wish of the family
that all friends may have a chance to view the body of Miss Madelyne Latimer, who was slain at Kenosha, they have requested that this be done only between the hours of 2 to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon.
Mrs. Anna Latimer, mother of the girl, is in a serious state of health and an effort is being made to keep the home quiet and devoid of confusion for her sake. The body was expected to arrive sometime Saturday and will be at the residence, 111 W. Washington-st., up the hour of the funeral.

Mrs. Latimer had been informed on first reports that her child was killed in an accident but later information about the murder was withheld because of her nervous condition. She was told the whole story Saturday morning, however,
by Msgr. W. J. Fitzmaurice of St.
Mary church, the family pastor.
She made an effort to bear up bravely while hearing the news but was prostrated afterward when she knew of the shocking manner of the death. She rallied later in the day and appeared to be somewhat improved.

WORK ON SCANTY CLEWS

Kenosha and Milwaukee Authorities Make Little Progress in Probe

Miss Madelyne Latimer's body
was being conveyed home to her family Saturday, with the mystery deepening instead of clearing as to the identity of the assailant who murdered her and her fiancé, James Sears, at Kenosha Wednesday night.
Able to prove a perfect alibi, Howard L. Pratt, a former suitor, jailed on suspicion, was released and the police of many cities took up new clues
in the hope of apprehending the slayer.

Preparations were being made here Saturday morning to receive the body, which was expected to arrive
some time during the day or evening
over the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. Three sisters, Evelyn of Milwaukee, a twin of Madeline, and Mrs. Joseph St. Louis and Mrs. Walter VanCaster of Kenosha, were accompanying the casket to Appleton.
Joseph St. Louis and his son Benjamin arrived from Kenosha Friday evening to assist in the burial arrangements.

The body is to repose at the home of the young woman's mother, Mrs.
Anna Latimer, 111 W. Washington-st., until Monday morning and may be viewed by friends only from 2 to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Funeral services are to be held at 8:30 Monday morning at St. W. J. Fitzmaurice church with Msgr. W. J. Fitzmaurice in charge. Interment will be made in St. Mary cemetery.

HELP POLICE

Everything that is humanly possible is being done by the Latimer family to aid the police of Kenosha and Milwaukee in identifying and arresting the slayer. He shot Miss Latimer and Mr. Sears while their automobile was parked late Wednesday night on "Lover's Lane" about six miles north of Kenosha, then dragged their bodies, containing two bullets each, to a cabbage field and hid them beneath leaves and grass.
The blood spattered red stutz road-
ster led to the discovery of the crime.

A psychic investigator in Milwaukee who has aided the police of that city in several cases has offered his services to the Latimer family. He declares his belief that the slayer is in Kenosha at the present time and that a woman feared with him in the case. This man said he would be more positive if he could obtain one of Madeline's garments. This was to be furnished him by Sheriff Frank Willems of Kenosha and further expression then is expected from him.
A number of criminals have been located and identified through his work in Milwaukee, it is said.

SLINDERS RELEAS

With the release of Pratt, the authorities went back to their slender clues Saturday in a new effort to throw light on the double mystery.
Tire tracks and stains on the ground,
believed to be blood stains found near the scene of the murder, have set the officers on a new trail, which however, promises little. Investigation is being made of the possibility of linking up the crime with several highway robberies which occurred near Milwaukee recently.

Added interest was given to the search Saturday for the slayer of Jimmy Sears and Madelyne Latimer by the arrival at Kenosha by airplane
from Fort Wayne, Ind., of Detective Sergeant Cavanaugh and Assistant States Attorney Jackson, who sought to link the Kenosha double killing with the slaying of a man and woman under similar circumstances and in a

ZIEGLER IS SPEAKER
AT A. A. L. CONVENTION

G. D. Ziegler, president of the Aid Association for Lutherans, has returned from a business trip during which he gave an address at the annual meeting of the Indiana federation of the association. The convention was held at South Bend, Sunday, Oct. 11 and Mr. Ziegler spoke at the business session and at the banquet. He also stopped at Addison, Ill., to organize a local branch of the A. A. L. and transacted business in Chicago.

Pratt's alibi and the fact that his Ford was found in front of his Milwaukee home Thursday morning minimized the importance of that rumor.

HEAR OF MEN WITH BLOODY HANDS

About the time a report from Elkhorn, Wis., that two men with blood on their hands had been seen in town, and nothing more came of that.

Deputy Sheriff Ray Williams late today went to Racine, Wis., to check up on a theory that Sears had been murdered because he was to have testified yesterday in Racine in a burglary case against Paul Pangborn, but Pangborn ridiculed the idea. Both he and the police declared that Sears' testimony would have been so trivial as to have only slight effect upon the case.

The most recent of today's many fugitive clues developed late this evening and was discarded almost immediately.

A. C. Pratt and C. P. McCracken, two friends of Sears, in the course of their scouting up and down Lovers' lane for possible evidence, drove up two miles north of the spot where the bodies and the blood stained car were found. Here, on the edge of the golf links of the Kenosha County club, where a bridge goes over a ravine to the side of the bridge the men discovered a automobile tracks going off the road, swerving around a bit and returning on the road.

It was taken to view the bodies, in order that relatives might take the bodies away for burial. Sears' body was sent to Union, S. C., for burial.

CORONER'S JURY VIEWS BODIES

The coroner swore a jury Friday afternoon and the juryviewed the bodies. The wounds were indicated for them and it was called to their attention that both bodies bore powder burns indicating shots fired at very close range. The jury were dismissed to be recalled in five or six days.

It was taken to view the bodies, in order that relatives might take the bodies away for burial. Sears' body was sent to Union, S. C., for burial.

The movements of Sears' red roadster Wednesday night have been traced through reports made to the sheriff by friends of Sears who recognized it and the mysterious coupe figured in all of these reports.

One friend of Sears said he saw Jimmy and Madeline eating in a roadhouse south of Kenosha on the Lakeshore road about 11 p. m. Another person who was at the roadhouse told of seeing a coupe stop near the parked roadster. No one got out of the coupe. When Sears and Madeline got into the roadster and drove toward Kenosha, the coupe followed.

Four persons reported seeing the red Stutz parked on the North Howland road about 11 p. m. That is where the bodies were found. The persons were Ray Woodworth, Harold Buchler, Grace Jackson and Linda Botsky. Either they were mistaken or the person who saw Sears and the girl at the roadhouse was mistaken, for the two places are eight or 10 miles apart.

Another friend said he was driving north on the Lakeshore road about midnight, and saw the red Stutz roadster traveling at high speed toward Milwaukee. The place he saw it was two miles north of the Birch road, which crosses from the Lakeshore road and intersects the North Howland road near where the bodies were found.

CHECK UP "WILD STORY"

Still another report, from a person who knew neither Sears nor Madeline Latimer, was that a red Stutz roadster was seen going north of North Howland-ave. followed closely by a coupe.

Sheriff Williams was trying to check up on a rather wild story which might have a bearing on the murders. The story was told by a young couple parked on Durkee-av., Kenosha, late Wednesday to spoon. Another automobile dashed up, stopped, and a man threw open the door of the spooners' car and flashed a light on them. He had a gun in his hand. The man in the parked car cried out: "I've only got 30 cents, but you can have that!" whereupon the man with the flash light is said to have retorted: "Keep your 30 cents. I'm not looking for you. I'm looking for a Stutz!"

SLAYER PUSHED CAR

Photographs have been made of fingerprints on the rear fender and back of Sears' roadster. The murderer apparently did not start the motor after killing the couple, but pushed the car down the road about the distance of a city block, Sheriff Williams believes.

This would make the murderer a strong man, if one person was involved, for it would take strength to push a heavy roadster along a gravel road.

The couple was slain with a .38-caliber pistol firing steel-jacketed bullets. This was determined by the finding in the automobile of the bullet which passed out Sears' jaw after entering his temple and by the removal of two similar bullets from the skull of Madeline Latimer. A fourth bullet lodged in Sears' spine and cannot be removed readily.

Miss Latimer had been shot between the eyes and through the neck. Her clothing was disarranged and partly torn off. Sears had been shot through the mouth and the temple. A $100 watch owned by Sears was missing and only a 50-cent piece remained in his pocket of $30 he had drawn from the garage cash drawer before he left.

Miss Latimer's coat, with blood stains on the fur collar, her unopened purse, a half-consumed box of candy and a man's hat were found in the automobile.

Double Header Sunday, Greenville.

First, two automobile salesmen brought in for questioning were almost immediately released when it was established that they had not been out on Lovers' lane for two weeks.

Next, townspeople reported that Barney Google roadhouse on Sheridan road before midnight Wednesday and several anonymous telephone calls to the authorities reported that a Ford coupe followed Jimmy Sears' Stutz up to the roadhouse and later shadowed it down the road, but brought in and nearly half of the 60 were signed up Friday night and Saturday morning. Prospects are that the membership will be close to 1,300 by Monday night.

Division O led by T. E. Orbison, topped the divisions for Friday with 132 members, 20 of which were reported at noon. The team captained by J. N. Fisher with 28 and 31 memberships at the Friday sessions for a 60 total lead the teams. After the evening session a talk was given by F. J. Harwood, "Y" president during which the football used in the Oshkosh Normal-Lawrence game two weeks ago was presented to Harold Eads for securing the most members.

The boys' division drive last week, Mr. Harwood complimented Eads highly for his work. Several of the boys went out helping finish the campaign Saturday.

Plans for next year's drive were discussed after the meeting and it was announced that Appleton's total membership would be at least 1,213 while Green Bay had only 1,108 members to its credit. Appleton's goal was 1,300 and Green Bay's 1,500.

A letter of thanks was sent out to workers Saturday and suggestions for improving the drive next year were asked as well as suggestions for new activities which might be added to "Y" program this year through popular demand. The winning division and team was given a banner at the end of each day during the campaign and with a change of high division or team, the chairman was compelled to carry the banner across the room to the high group. The college "Y" under the direction of John Taras, aided the main campaign especially on the final day.

A bank robbery, at least one murder and numerous holdups are attributed to the band by the police. The roundup was considered one of the most important in many years. Other arrests are expected.

FARMER RAISES
HUGE POTATOES

Hodgins Find Spud Weighing Pound and Ten Ounces in Farmer's Wagon

Joseph A. Hodgins, whose business as city sealer of weights and measures is to see that Appleton consumers get measure for measure in the commodities that they buy. Friday came across a load that had fewer potatoes than are to be found in the normal load. But what the load lacked in numbers it more than made up in weight.

They were from the crop of Daniel McGinnis, Spencer-rd, father of Detective Sergeant Matthew McGinnis. Mr. Hodgins singled out one potato that weighed no less than a pound and ten ounces. At this weight and at the present price paid for potatoes the sample was worth between 3 and 4 cents, and yet Mr. Hodgins remembers the time when the "lowly" spud could bring little more than that for a whole bushel. Potatoes will probably never be worth their weight in gold, but if they keep on growing on the McGinnis farm, one potato will some day equal one orange in price.

This potato was a fair sample, says the "watchdog of the scales" of the entire crop of Mr. McGinnis. He obtained about 200 bushels per acre this year.

Mr. Hodgins says that potatoes in this vicinity will be somewhat scarce this year but they will be of good quality. They are free from rot and were not touched by the recent frost unless some farmers were caught with potatoes dug out and left on the ground. While Outagamie-co is not a potato region, the town of Oneida has good possibilities along that line, he said.

BIG CHECK BUSINESS
REPORTED BY BANKS

New York.—All records for a single day's check collections by the federal reserve system were broken this week when more than 3,500,000 checks with a total value of almost $10,000,000 passed through the twelve reserve banks at the peak of the post-holiday collection rush on Wednesday.

Collections at New York banks alone aggregated $250,000,000 on the 659,000 check items, some of which included bundles of a dozen or more separate checks. Other federal reserve banks reported the heaviest collections in their history.

Observe 65th Anniversary
Of Pioneer Store In City

During the week of Oct. 17 to 24, the Pettibone-Peabody Co. will hold an anniversary program to celebrate the sixty-fifth year of its establishment. In October, 1870, Chauncey J. Pettibone, originator of the chain store system in the United States, established a retail store in Appleton, which has grown to be one of the best known in Wisconsin. All articles in the store have been greatly reduced for this occasion.

Mr. Pettibone's principal store was located in Fond du Lac 65 years ago. He intended some day to establish his main store at Portage, but this ambition never became a reality. George F. Peabody was delegated the management of the local store in 1870 and when Mr. Pettibone died, in 1902, Mr. Peabody carried on the work.

J. D. Steele has been manager of the store since Mr. Peabody's death. Now the Appleton store is the only one retaining the firm name and there are no branch stores.

Windo wdisplays, featuring ancient costumes dating back as far as 1860, were used several months ago to call attention to the anniversary. The management of the store has sent out 18,000 invitations to former residents of Appleton and customers of the store, notifying them of the anniversary and inviting them to attend. Miss Ella Malone, an employee of the company for more than 40 years, will be at the store during the next week to receive old friends and welcome all who come. The company is making plans for a celebration next week to commemorate the birthday anniversary of Mr. Pettibone and Mr. Peabody.

CHAPEL ROCKED BY CHEERS FOR DONOR OF FIELD

George A. Whiting Guest of Honor at Appreciation Party in Lawrence Chapel

The first cheers ever delivered in the Lawrence Memorial chapel were heard Friday morning when the student body gave a rousing ovation to Geo. A. Whiting on the eve of the dedication of the new Geo. A. Whiting Field. The occasion was the second student chapel of the year.

In expressing his motives for the gift, Mr. Whiting said, "The most unhappy condition which can be opposed upon mankind is an over-developed mind in a weak body." He explained that the gift was not charity, but more of an investment in youth, "May the best man win in every contest on the field. May the best team win. But so conduct yourselves that Lawrence cannot be beaten by any team in her class," he concluded.

President Henry M. Wriston thanked Mr. Whiting for the student body, and Dr. Farley expressed the appreciation of the Athletic Board, the Woman's Athletic Association, the "C" club, and the various college teams. "We thank you, not in a formal way, but through genuine appreciation," he said.

IZAAK WALTON LEAGUE ELECTS

Sherman Brown, Milwaukee, Chosen President at Green Bay Annual Convention

Green Bay—(P)—Sherman Brown, Milwaukee, was elected president of the Wisconsin division of the Izaak Walton League of America Thursday at the close of the state convention eventful for its direct criticism of state officials in their alleged failure to adopt and put into effect a definite state policy of conservation.

None of the department heads of the Wisconsin conservation commission appeared at the convention although invited to attend and explain what is being done by the state for conservation.

State officials were urged to use their powers and maximum efforts to create forest reserves and the conservation commission was implored to create wild life refuges insofar as funds are available. Other officers elected included John M. McHale, Green Bay, first vice president; C. W. (Outdoors) Smith, Evansville, second vice president; Louis Radtke, Horicon, third vice president; J. B. McCready, Fond du Lac, executive secretary; directors for three years—George W. Blanchard, Edgerton; Frank Graess, Sturgeon Bay and C. S. Sheppard, River Falls.

MANY SCHOOLS SEEKING DEBATES WITH LAWRENCE

A very extensive season in Lawrence debate is being planned by the forensic department of the college. Two trips into Michigan and Illinois are being considered, and several colleges in Michigan, Illinois and Iowa have requested debates.

Lawrence already is under contract for a home debate with Cornell college of Mount Vernon, Iowa, as a return meet for the debate there during Lawrence's western trip last year.

Among the schools which are seeking debates with Lawrence are Michigan State Normal School, Monmouth in Illinois, Carroll, Northwestern college of Naperville, Ill., Coe, Illinois Wesleyan, Wheaton; Carleton, Gustavus Adolphus, Hamline, Millikin, Kalamazoo college at Kalamazoo, Mich., Ripon, Cornell, Milton, Knox, Beloit, Western State Normal and Olivet.

Ralph Busse of Reedsville was an Appleton visitor Thursday.

PARENTS INVITED TO VISIT SCHOOLS

Citizenship Is Emphasized in Report Cards Sent to Homes of Pupils

Citizenship is one of the most emphasized points in the new report cards used by students of Appleton's junior high schools this year. The cards were used for the first time at the end of the first six weeks of school. A "daily dozen of citizenship" is printed on each card impressing such things as regular and prompt attendance, obedience, preparation of assignments, courtesy, cooperation, clean speech and habits, health, recreation, thrift, preservation of property, loyalty and consideration.

Parents are asked to help the students and teachers improve the qualities by encouragement and commendation. The card states that the development of the qualities are more important than mere academic success. A special section of the report card is given to citizenship marks. Health and weight also are emphasized and the students are marked on these things as well as on thrift.

Parents are encouraged to visit the schools and talk over their children's progress with the teachers and principals whenever possible. One paragraph on the card reads: "Your frequent presence in the school room will do much to encourage both teachers and pupils and help to make our schools better. Please give special attention to attendance at school every day and on time, regular and uninterrupted study periods at home and the exclusion of social engagements that might interfere with school duties."

the superintendents office at the end of each six-week period on the new blanks. Among the things which the teachers are asked to report on are pupils admitted to their classes, those dropped during the period, transfers, days present, absent and tardy, amount of corporal punishment administered, suspensions, failures, personal visits to homes and phone calls.

HAIR DYE WONDER

A chemist and hair specialist of St. Paul has discovered what is known as the Hair Dye Wonder. The wonderful thing about it is that it will not color a thing except human hair and in one application it makes any color desired, a color that cannot be washed out nor rubbed off. It is a great surprise to users of hair restorers. The Bristol Medicine Co., 354 Main ave., Dept. 208, St. Paul, Minn., has acquired all rights in this wonderful discovery. They offer $500 reward if it dyes the scalp or rubs off. It is simple, perfectly harmless and easily applied at home. Write for free booklet. Cut this out.

"everlastingly fine performance!"

"If other cars required as little attention, as few adjustments, as the Willys-Knight—the repair shops of this country would have to close their doors tomorrow!"

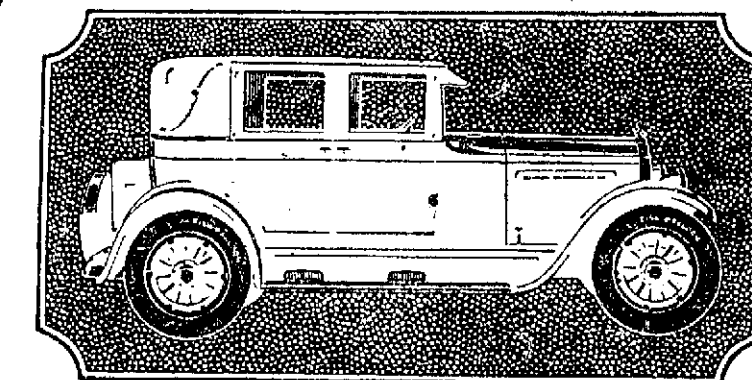

—direct from the owner of the busiest repair shop in one of our largest cities comes that statement...

"Fully 50% of our time is spent in grinding valves and cleaning out carbon", says another service station manager...

In those two significant remarks, from experience—headquarters, you have the answer to the expensive and annoying cost-of-up-keep problem that perpetually perplexes so many car owners. And, in the same breath, you have the reason for the universal satisfaction of Willys-Knight owners, today in their hundreds of thousands!

"An Engine You'll Never Wear Out"

the patented Knight sleeve-valve engine... in this lies the secret of Willys-Knight emancipation from engine-repairs, its freedom from the need for constant adjustment. This unique engine-principle means uninterrupted service, year in, year out. It means longer life for your car—immeasurably, infinitely longer. It means a sweeter, quieter, more efficient motor-mechanism up to and beyond 100,000 miles than you enjoyed on the day you bought it!

No Carbon Troubles No Valves to Grind

... your Willys-Knight is absolutely immune from engine-disorders caused by carbon accumulation. "It's all the better for a bit of carbon"—any expert mechanic will tell you that. Carbon cannot harm your Willys-Knight, or cause knocks or noise, or put your car out of commission for hours and days. It is an engineering fact that carbon serves actually to facilitate this engine's functioning!

No valves to grind—no tappets, no springs, no rocker arm bushings to get out of order or replace. The Knight sleeve-valve idea gets rid of all of them. No eternal pounding of metal upon metal—all parts of this sleeve-valve engine slide and rotate—hence no chattering of parts, no wear and tear...

... where all other engines lose in power, lose in endurance, and cost more to run as their mileage grows—the engine of your Willys-Knight actually improves with

use. It develops more horsepower, becomes sweeter and quieter, and costs less to run the more mileage you pile up on it!

A Car of Rare Beauty— Rare Distinction

And your Willys-Knight is as beautiful an automobile as you have ever cast your eyes upon. "In line and form the most graceful I have ever seen," a famous artist says. Its appointments as rich, its equipment as complete as you will find in any car, regardless of its price... See the smart Coupe-Sedan here shown. A car you will delight to drive. A car in which you will take vast pride in owning. Come, see this superb automobile. Familiarize yourself with the facts about its magnificent performance record. Consider the substantially reduced prices. Deferred payments. A small amount down. Your own convenience—52 weeks or more for balance. Your present car to apply as part payment.

The River

FROM the Great Lakes to the Gulf, America's greatest river flows majestically. Through the heart of the country it takes its course, broadening and deepening as lesser rivers empty their flow into its current. Farms and cities on its banks find it a source of industry and a means of supply.

Through the country runs another river, as continuous as the Mississippi in its flow. It is the river of thought which, day and night, moves through the land and vitalizes the national life. Its source lies in the people's knowledge that communication with all parts of the country is possible. It is a stream that deepens and broadens and grows stronger as thought is added to thought, as the mind of one community joins the mind of another.

America's national telephone system is a channel for this river, for Bell System service unites all sections of the country. It leaves no gap in the pathway of communication. It knows no off-duty hours, nor any corner of the nation that is too remote to be reached.

THE SECURITY PACT

The so-called security pact agreed to by the delegates representing the leading nations of Europe at the Locarno conference is frankly regarded as the most far-reaching effort toward peace since the treaty of Versailles, and many observers regard it as being more significant than the Versailles treaty since it is entered into as a freewill agreement without the exercise of pressure by nations strong in victory over those suffering defeat.

Under the agreement Belgium, France and Germany agree to hold the Rhine territory inviolate. Each agrees not to invade the territory of the others, and they are to abstain from war. England and Italy agree to guarantee fulfillment of the terms of the agreement by standing ready to punish any violation of the pact with all the power at their command. Arbitration of any difficulties that may arise is obligatory. The permanent court of international justice, the council of the League of Nations and boards of conciliation are suggested as possible agencies of arbitration.

There are of course many other phases of the agreement, but this is the big central idea and the matter to which the greatest significance is attached. The apparent willingness of the nations to enter this agreement and the short time required to reach complete agreement suggests that the experience of Europe since the close of the World War has taught a greater military lesson than all of the battles from 1914 to 1918.

France entertaining a real fear of future aggression by Germany has built up a tremendous military organization and is staggering under the tax burden necessary to support it. On the other hand Germany humiliated by the disarmament provisions of the negotiations that ended the World war has only recently discovered that the greatest blessing she could have enjoyed were those same orders to reduce her armaments. Free from the burden of supporting a great military organization she has forged ahead and is further on the road to prosperity than she could possibly have been had she been permitted to follow her own desires with regard to military preparedness.

Mainly the wise leaders of Germany have no desire to return to the huge military expenditures of the past, and are willing to sacrifice considerably to keep military costs low, and it is equally plain that France prefers the guarantee of England and Italy to supporting the huge military machine that is crowding her toward bankruptcy.

The tremendous pressure that any four of these nations might be able to apply upon the fifth economically and without recourse to arms is tremendous and possibly would be sufficient to meet any threatened breach of the pact, and certainly the united arms of any four would be sufficient to crush the fifth nation should it violate the pact.

The agreement is not different from the basic idea underlying the League of Nations covenant which was nothing more than an attempt to bring all nations into an agreement to arbitrate their differences, and to secure from all nations a promise to protect any member nation from territorial aggression from without. The Security pact is different of course in that it is limited as to the nations and questions involved, and in that it does not attempt to set up any machinery to handle disputes that may arise.

CONSERVATION MOVEMENT GROWING

Perhaps one of the most significant facts brought out at the annual convention of the Wisconsin division, Izaak Walton League of America, held in Green Bay recently, was the statement of President Will H. Dile, that the league is growing rapidly and that new members are being attracted to its ranks daily. This indeed is most encouraging and presages, we believe, the early arrival of the day when the League will be a real constructive force in the preservation of our wild life. It is true, that the Waltons have done much to conserve our wild birds and beasts and awaken public opinion, but there still remains much to be done before any effective conservation work can be accomplished.

An aroused public opinion is the aim of the Waltons. This is essential if their work is to be successful and our wild life given that measure of protection which it should have. It rests with the public whether we are to hunt these wild creatures in moderation and adopt laws which assure their propagation, or slaughter them recklessly and disregard all measures of preservation. In the past we have killed our wild life without a thought of the morrow: the same thing is true of our forests and our streams which have been stripped and polluted. We are an extravagant race and deal with our national resources with a free hand, which if continued means the inevitable disappearance of our game birds, fish and beasts and our forests.

The Izaak Walton leagues throughout the country have been the most potent force in combating this extravagance and recklessness. Through education it has attempted to show the public the unwisdom of its course, but so far they have only scratched the surface. There have been some reforms, but there must be more, coupled with a different attitude on the part of Americans. The league and its leaders are willing to carry on this missionary work, but in order to do so it must have the cooperation of the public. The best way to extend this support is to join the league and preach the gospel of conservation. If every red-blooded American, who wants to see our wild life and forests perpetuated does this, it will not be many years before this country has a real conservation policy which it so badly needs.

SHOCKING THE EAST

A British censor of motion pictures in the Federated Malay states addresses a cry of distress to Hollywood about the effect of our American films on the restless nations east of Suez. We are shocking the east, he says, and destroying the essential respect of the British empire's subject peoples for the morals and manners of the white race.

He complains that he has to prohibit 12 per cent of the American films which pass through his lands and clip objectionable footage from 90 per cent of the remainder. The dangerous sections are of the following classes: Dress immodesty, methods used by criminals, gambling scenes and interracial marriages and attachments. The oriental's morals, says this censor, are less rigid than our own; but his sense of modesty is considerably higher. The east has a passion for gambling which should be curbed instead of excited; and it will be just as well if its criminals stick to their ancient and clumsy methods instead of learning the superior systems of our Jimmy Valentines. And of course the evil of miscegenation is obvious enough.

It is not a particularly agreeable thought that the reflection by films of our supposedly superior civilization should be honestly condemned as a bad influence in what we have regarded as the pagan and benighted parts of the world. But we may save ourselves somewhat by remembering that this movie reflection is often false to life.

THE BORN DEFECTIVE

Arrest of mental development in a child who is normal at birth may be due to insanity, epilepsy, alcoholism or other taint in the parents, or to a grave injury of the child's head, or to the after effects of meningitis (brain fever) or tuberculosis or a cerebral hemorrhage, or a tumor in the brain or to congenital syphilis, and depending on the degree of the damage to the brain cells has occurred before the child will become an idiot (mental age not over two years), an imbecile (mental age from 3 to 7 years), or a moron (mental age from 8 to 12 years). All of these feeble minded, and constitute the great majority of the weak minded, are normal at birth, and the arrest of their mental development is just an unfortunate accident. There are comparatively few born idiots.

When the mental defect is present at birth the idiotic or feeble mindedness is called congenital. There are several types of congenital idiotcy and we have no definite knowledge about the cause or causes of such defects. Nature's errors, perhaps, and the wonder is that nature makes so few of these errors. These congenital types of idiotcy may occur in any family and the causes of arrested mental development, as I have described them in preceding talks, do not apply at all to congenital idiotcy. Any man's child may be born a fool or a future president—that is purely chance. Science assigns the explanation or cause for arrested mental development, but gives little or no light on these fortunately rare cases of idiotcy at birth or congenital amentia (lack of mind). The following types of congenital amentia or idiotcy are recognized:

Hydrocephalus ("water on the brain"), in which the skull is greatly enlarged and the forehead high and prominent, with an excess of cerebro spinal fluid in the ventricles or internal spaces of the brain and often between the membranes covering the brain.

Microcephalus, in which the skull is much diminished in size, but more characteristic than the small size of the head is the shape of it, narrow dome with forehead and back part of head sloping down and deficient. Microcephalic amentia is perhaps the least troublesome of all idiots, generally happy, well behaved and often droll and comical. Mongolism, so called from the idiot's facial resemblance to that of the Mongol, the face being flat, the eyes slanting, the lid opening narrow and usually the edges of the lids turned out, the nose stubby and triangular, the back of the head flat, the voice guttural. Mongolian idiots often have "double joints"—that is the joints are more mobile than in normal persons, are generally mouth-breathers from adenoids which have nothing to do with the mental defect, mild tempered but stupid, often have a sense of rhythm and are fond of simple music, and may in some instances be taught to read and write.

Cretinism, a peculiar amentia associated with arrested physical development from congenital absence or deficiency of the thyroid secretion. (Cretinism is endemic in certain districts in mountainous regions, as in Switzerland, in the Himalayas, in the Burmah and Madagascar, in parts of the Andes and the Rocky mountains.)

Amateur family idiotcy, the idiot being born blind, often several such children in one family, usually a Jewish family, the condition always terminates fatally after a few months or a year or two.

Idiot savants, such as "lightning calculators," individuals with phenomenal memory for dates, figures and similar unimportant things, but deficient in all other faculties. Many a genius is actually an idiot.

JUST HAPPENSTANCE

For these various kinds of congenital idiotcy no cause is known and there is no special treatment other than the proper care of any mental defective, lost in an institution.

I have given these brief details in response to requests from readers for information concerning feeble mindedness, but I hope no one will assume that because I refer to the subject of feeble mindedness here I know any more about it than the home doctor does. We're going to say more about it in succeeding issues, but please, I ask you, friends and credulous folk, do not write me about individual cases of feeble mindedness—such problems should be submitted to the family doctor.

The different degrees of arrested mental development which were described the other day, idiotcy, imbecility and moroncy—are due to the causes which were mentioned and such feeble mindedness is preventable so far as the cause is preventable—see children in the parents. On the other hand, these types of born idiotcy described to date are due to no definite causes, as far as science can tell, and are amenable to no known treatment nor are they preventable. A case of congenital idiotcy may occur in any family, no matter how good the antecedents. It is just happenstance. No stigma attaches to congenital amentia, therefore, unless honor depends on chance.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO
Saturday, Oct. 20, 1900.

Mrs. Mary Warren, Winnebago-st., was found dead on the floor of her home from heart disease yesterday noon.

L. D. Smith, local station agent, who had been visiting in the Lake Superior country, returned home yesterday.

Fred Wentzel presented two pictures to Ryan high school.

Miss Julia Whittin, who was attending Oshkosh normal school, was expected home to spend Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Charles Sacksteder.

Miss Carrie E. Morgan was in Kaukauna, the previous evening attending a reception for teachers, given by the Rev. and Mrs. Isaac Tracy.

TEN YEARS AGO

Saturday, Oct. 16, 1915.

Miss Pearl Peavel of this city, and J. A. Smith of Canby, N. D., were married Tuesday evening by the Rev. T. J. Sauer.

Sale of a number of billion government bonds for national defense had been decided upon at Washington.

Henry Lillie and Jerry Lyman, bowlers in the Monarch league, lost the second lap of their fifty game series last night when they were defeated by Mullberg and Garter of Kaukauna by 371 pins.

Charles Uetz of Milwaukee, was in Kaukauna, conferring with Mr. Brothers, a printer from the western part of the state, who arranging to establish a new paper in the village of Little Chute. Mr. and Mrs. George Heegeman, Maple Grove, were moving to Racine where they planned to reside.

CAN YOU IMAGINE

Nick Altvick as Hamlet?
Peggy Joyce washing dishes?
Charlie Chaplin celebrating his twenty-fifth wedding anniversary?
Volstead getting drunk?
Nurmi missing a street car?
Coolidge getting horse from talking?
Mary Pickford with bobbed hair?
Al Jolson working for $30 a week?
A chorus girl with no appetite?
Neither can we.

A couple of dyed-in-the-wool Washington fans have come to the conclusion that "Pirates" is a fitting name for the Pittsburgh team. That has nothing to do with stealing bases, nor of robbing Senator batsmen of hits, nor of the high prices they slapped on the seats, but the way they unjustly took the second and seventh games. Telegraph Mike and Linotype May may be good operators, but we would n't advise them to become surgeons.

Grandpa Langstadt celebrated his nineteenth birthday anniversary Wednesday, and it must be he has a twin sister living in Chilton, for she lady down there celebrated the same kind of event on the same day.

The downpour at the final world's series game didn't worry Barney Dreyfuss a bit. Every cloud had a silver lining for him, and those reckless fans certainly helped line them with their money.

Another man confesses to doing it. Salsstad act, the papers showed yesterday. After all, it must be more comfortable to be alive than dead.

A suggestion to the Cub Reporter would be to interview Salsstad and his imitator, Turner, on their experience, in the realm of the dead.

Maybe Salsstad and Turner could get parts as Hamlet in the Shakespearian play.

Any time a man takes a notion to go "sailing" with Charon over the River Styx you can make up your mind that he will some day be blown out of his course and will "turn" back for home.

"No rest for the weary," says the Beloit paper when Beloit college resumes football practice after its still game with Notre Dame. But that doesn't read like the proverb as we learned it as a kid. It was something about the "wearyed," and not "weary." In this case an ordinary football penalty should be punishment enough.

"Many records smashed in world's series," says newspaper headline. That's correct. Only there should have been more.

At Menominee, Mich., a girl below legal age dressed herself to look like a woman and so was able to secure a marriage license. How was it possible to dress herself like a mature woman? Maybe she shortened her skirts.

SAME FOR GANDER

Editor Post-Crescent—Recently one of Appleton's well known merchants on Appleton-st. was arrested on two occasions for blockading the sidewalk in front of his place of business, due to the fact that some local fruit dealer had unloaded a quantity of cased fruit on the sidewalk and the merchant at the time was very busy, and did not remove same at once, although there was passage way for pedestrians.

What have these parties got to say about Appleton coal dealers when they deliver coal to merchants on College-ave and blockade the entire sidewalk with coal chutes, causing pedestrians to go around their wagons or trucks, and also around cars parked at the curb, out onto College-ave, where they are liable to meet with misfortune of getting struck by a passing autoist.

If these parties will analyze the above and be frank in their own mind and judgment, to see whether a few cases of fruit on the sidewalk with a space large enough for people to get through, is as dangerous for passersby as coal which blockades the entire sidewalk, and cause people to walk out into the road.

"That night he disappeared. The next we heard of Miss Ellington was that she was in Paris in the family of an American by the name of Stores. She had not been there very long before there was trouble there also.

"Stores and his wife separated. Mrs. Stores sued for divorce, naming Miss Ellington as co-respondent. We never knew how the case came out as we heard that the girl disappeared. "She left quite a good many things at the Stores residence. Among them were several letters from my brother-in-law while she was still at my sister's home and others that had come to her while she was in Paris.

"Among these later letters were some which threatened her life. "This is perhaps the reason why the girl disappeared. My brother-in-law had seen Mrs. Stores and told her that the girl had some uncanny fascination for every man that saw her and he thought it his duty to rid the world of her. Mrs. Stores at this became frightened and wrote my sister the whole story."

The girl said, Leslie, that she would not have bothered me with this story at all, except that she had found out from one Elizabeth Swartz, a young woman who had been in school with her, that Miss Ellington was in America and living at your house.

"Miss Swartz," said the girl who was telling me the story, "knew nothing about my family or that part of the life of her schoolgirl friend in which it figured. She thinks Miss Ellington the same sweet girl she met at school. "The way I came to know you were in the city was that Miss Ellington wrote Miss Swartz that you were over here and that she hoped her friend would see you. Of course, when I heard the name Zoe Ellington I was much interested and presently I had found out a good deal of the story.

"Now Mrs. Hamilton," she said, "I thought it was my duty to tell you this, for I am sure that however kind you are to Zoe Ellington, she will get you into some kind of trouble. She has done this to every family she has ever entered since she left school.

"She is like one of those 'Typhoid Marys' who is absolutely immune from any disease herself, but infects all others about her with the germ that kills."

I have not had time yet, Leslie, to look into this matter at all, and I would not know how to go about it if I did, for I do not want Karl to know.

It may be a very much exaggerated story from one of the family of a man who persecuted the girl in the case. The man may be entirely to blame. Don't take too much stock in the story and above all give the girl the benefit of the doubt. A pretty girl alone in the world always has my sympathies. She has a very hard road to hoe. Please let me hear from you about this very soon.

I love you always, dear child

AFTER BABY WAS BORN

Mrs. Miles Was Miserable a Long Time—Owes Final Recovery to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dover, Ohio. — "After my last baby was born I was up and around again, but I was sickly all the time and did not know how to get my work done. I had washed a heavy carpet and I think that was the cause of my troubles. I went to several doctors, but their medicines did not do me any good. I asked what the trouble was, for I could hardly walk and all ways had such pains in my left side and then in my right side. He told me I had inflammation that caused it. I had one of your text-books and was reading it, and I thought I would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After four days of taking it I began to feel better, so I took three bottles without missing a dose. That helped me more than any other medicine I had yet taken and I always have it handy now. It surely did put me on my feet again." — Mrs. JAMES MILES, 419 Cherry Street, Dover, Ohio.

Adventures Of The Twins

CATS, DOGS AND TOTEM POLES

The porcupineapple never caught up to the snailboat, so that was the last the Twins ever saw of him.

As for the snail, he fell sound asleep, and when he did so his horns drew in. That brought the sail down and the boat to a dead stop.

"Well, this looks like the end of it," said Nick, jumping out of the coiled-shell boat and wading ashore. "It's the end of that anyway," said Nancy, following at Nick's heels. "We'll never find the Fairy Queen's bees at this rate."

Just then there was a thump and a howl, and another thump and a spit, and then more thumps and howls and spits and the ground around the Twins was simply covered with cats and dogs all yelling their heads off.

"It's raining cats and dogs!" cried Nick.

"Didn't you bring an umbrella?" shouted a voice above the din. "It's almost sure to sprinkle in the Land of Wonders. It's always wise to carry one."

There stood a man with a hat brim as wide as a table. But no more umbrella than I have this minute and I've nothing in my hand but a pen.

"Ha, ha! I see you are curious," said the man. "It's my umbrella hat. I invented it myself. I can also use it for a chair or a table at my convenience, by turning it upside down. Also it saves me carfare. By buckling it tightly under my chin and waiting for a stiff breeze, I can have all the trips I wish for nothing. Ah! The dogs and cats have stopped. There is the sun! We are sure to have a spanking breeze now, so I'll be going. I shall now turn my hat into an aeroplane."

The queer man put on goggles, buckled a strap under his chin, took off his shoes and stuck them into his pocket—to make him lighter he said—and stuck a pin-wheel on the edge of the brim of his huge hat. Instantly it started to buzz, the pin-wheel did, and the man began to rise. "Good-bye!" he called. "Sorry I can't take you, but this is a one-passenger car. I'll build a rumble-seat sometime and come and get you."

Away he sailed through the air before the astonished children had a minute to ask him about the Fairy Queen's honeybees. When they turned around, all the puppy-dogs and kittens were gone, too.

"This is the queerest place yet," said Nick. "Nothing stays long enough for you to do anything."

"I agree," said another voice. The Twins turned and saw a sort of telegraph pole with about ten faces painted all over it in bright colors. "I'm a regular stick-in-the-mud," said one of the faces. "They call me a totem pole. But I don't know why I have got to stay here. I've been here for so many years I've started to count backward."

"That, true," agreed all the other faces solemnly. "But we've improved our lot. We've learned music, one by one, some tenor and one bass one like a whistle and one goes dum-dum like a drum, and one squeals like a violin. We have a whole orchestra. Please turn that knob! Thank you."

The totem pole then played a tune the queerest tune the children had ever heard. It really sounded like a dozen wild animals all yelling to be fed.

"It's we who are queer," thought the Twins politely. "It is most likely considered fine music here. But it has nothing to do with bees."

"Fashion" from Peggy-u-New York

HERE I am, all ready to tell you the news, and it's such a gorgeous fall day that Fifth Avenue is ablaze with color and the October sky sings with its very blueness!

EXTRA—Extra

THERE is so much to tell. Billie Burke is back in town in bois de rose. I saw her myself. Every night's a first night and then some. But we won't miss anything. Not a note.

Scandal

FIRST, a tale of scandal and intrigue and alliances. Velveteen deserting all formality has gone to jersey for sports! It runs around the necks and wrists of two-piece frocks. It even allies itself with Scotch plaids. And gets away with it too.

BLACK PRINCE

A SOCIAL note! A new prince proved as much of a favorite at the Meadow Brook Polo Games this year, as the Prince of Wales did a year ago.

Invited to every party by all of the pretty debutantes, Black Prince — the new dusky purple, the wine red shade—is a flattering and therefore a royal success.

Flaming Youth

Now to lend dignity to the script, I solemnly append an academic note. Flaming youth, off to college to lead its own life, has chosen red for frocks that make the before-mentioned life worth living, and dances worth sitting out.

Bright red like cranberries and Christmas. Brilliant enough to go to college.

A Golden Footnote

REMEMBER that song "Oh dem golden slippers?"

Well, "golden slippers you're wan to wear to walk the golden street" all right if you keep in step with the shoes along Fifth Avenue.

Always a touch of gold on them somewhere. A wee buckle or a leather inset, something golden to twinkle as you walk.

It's fine to be gifted with a silver tongue, but ladies and gentlemen, it's so much more fashionable to have gold on your shoes, on your hat, on your dress.

Gold anywhere—even in your pocket!

GAMEL CLOSES TALKS WITH PLEA TO DADS OF BOYS

Tells Big Audience to Learn to Understand Sons and Give Them a Chance

New London.—Mr. Frank Gamel addressed 600 persons in the parish hall Friday evening, when he gave the concluding number of his week's series of lectures on the subject, Making a Man of Your Boy.

During his week's stay in the city, Mr. Gamel gave eight lectures, two to high school students, one to the Civic Improvement league, and the other five to the public. He has, he stated, given personal interviews to about 50 high school boys, who came to him with various kinds of problems, some weighty and some of less importance. All of them, Mr. Gamel said, in the lives of these boys, he presented the same problem, and he asked them to write to him informing him how their problems turn out, and keeping him posted from time to time. He promised to correspond with them when they needed further help. He left the city Saturday morning for Waupaca where he will spend the coming week in lecturing and holding interviews as he did in New London. He will spend the second week in November in Clintonville, where he has been secured for the same purpose.

DESCRIBES BOY'S LIFE

His lecture on Making a Man of Your Boy, which he gave here Friday evening, was probably the best of the entire week. He reviewed briefly at the start, the life of a boy.

"Do you remember, dads," said Dr. Gamel, "the first time you trembled in the presence of your son when the doctor placed a reassuring hand on your arm, and said, 'It's alright, old man, it's a boy,' and when, later, you took him into your arms and trembled at the very sight, the littleness, the weakness, and smallness of him? And then again, years later, when he had grown into manhood, and bigger and stronger than you were, looked down into your eyes and announced that he was going out into the world, and face life for himself, and you trembled at the thought of his strength and greatness, of the thought that you were responsible for bringing him into the world, and now a man, to go out into the world and become a leader among men? That is the thrill which only dads can have."

"We all think that boys are the very essence of mischiefousness. That thought is unjust, for they're not. In fact, genius is only transformed mischief. Don't repress the lad. Our work here is to start things, not stop things. Don't say don't. It takes a lot more trouble, and an infinitely lot more patience to raise a boy that way but you'll have a far better boy in the end. Don't spank the boy. It doesn't do him any good. Most youngsters get spanked not because they have done something wrong, but because they have annoyed their parents. So every time you feel your temper rising, and you feel as if you'd like to spank the boy, don't, but just relax your muscles and smile, and he'll escape a lot of spankings."

ANSWER THEIR QUESTIONS
"All boys are curious. That's natural. They will ask enough questions that sometimes you'll begin to feel that they'd try the patience of a saint. Don't say to the boy when he comes to ask you something, 'Oh, I don't know, go ask somebody else,' for that's just exactly what he'll do. He'll ask somebody else. So answer all of them, for if you don't, somebody else will, and when there comes a time when he begins to ask questions which will shape his future, somebody else is likely to poison his mind, and he'll get bad impressions and ideas. Don't discourage the curiosity of the boy."

"Boys are good deal like monkeys. They'll imitate somebody else. The growing boy copies the habits of the man who has been pointed out to him as being the finest exemplification of a man, a model. He wants to make a man out of himself, and he sets about doing it in the best manner in which he knows how. He's going to fashion himself after his model, cost what it may. I ask you, men, do you think it quite fair for men who have been over the road, and know where the danger spots lie, to indulge in habits which you know will be ruinous to a boy who will copy them?"

"Be very careful about what you tell your boy. The stories about Santa Claus and the story that you tell to him are going to break down some day, and when that day comes, what's going to happen in the boy's mind. He's going to wonder why you told him, and right away he's going to say, 'You lied to me.' This often leads to serious results."

"Teach them to play fair and square in their games, for by doing this, you will also teach them to play fair and square in the game of life. Along about the age of 16 or 17, the boy will begin to make comparisons. He will 'fall in love' with some high school girl. Don't tell him about his girl, for it's dangerous. Got to like his girl, or chums, for there will be a new one every week. He considers his problem to be a sacred one, and if you laugh at him, he won't trust you with his confidence any longer, and he won't tell you things any more."

CHURCH HOLDS ITS HARVEST FEST SUNDAY

Congregational Service Will Be Amid Fall Decorations—Nursery Provided

Special to Post-Crescent
New London.—The Congregational church will celebrate its annual harvest festival Sunday morning. This is an annual affair during the harvest season and the church is elaborately decorated in accordance with the time of the year. Sunday morning's program will consist of a special cantata, by the choir, prayer, reading of the scripture, and offering. The offering will be taken up by having the members of the congregation leave it themselves in a basket in the front of the church, instead of having ushers collect it. This is a method which is in vogue in many churches at the present time, and is being introduced into the local church for the first time Sunday morning.

Arrangements have been made for the establishment of a nursery which will enable all parents to attend who would not otherwise be able to on Sunday morning. They may leave their "kiddies" in the care of experienced persons in charge of the new institution. This nursery will be a permanent affair from now on, and will apply to all Sunday morning services.

On Sunday morning, Oct. 25, there will be celebrated the first annual ladies' church service, which all of the members of the Ladies Aid society of the church are especially invited. They will meet at the home of Mrs. C. Jost at 10:30 in the morning, and will go from there in a body to the church at 11 o'clock.

"They class me as a pessimist," he said, "and I am one. I will not make any promises and then have them broken. My boys will go on that field in the very pink of condition with instructions in put all they have into the game and to fight hard and clean, and then if Green Bay defeats them it will only be because their team is superior." The coach was given a big cheer before he sat down.

Roy Darling, class of '25, was the next speaker and he also implored the team to win.

"E. Ott, gave a talk asking the boys to give all they had and then some, and he asked all the students to cheer with all they had. "And," he continued, "if we all give all we've got, and we can give Kaukauna high will come out on top."

ENLARGED AND
BECOME POPULAR

Enlarged Photographs Often Make Better Pictures Than Originals

Enlargements and colored photos
have finally found favor with the public, declares Frank Koch, proprietor
of Koch's Photo Finishing Shop, 134 E. College-ave. A few years ago the demand for this type of picture was light. Now a bigger percentage of orders received at photo shops are for enlargements and colored prints.

Contrary to an old belief, enlarged
photos make just as good pictures, and sometimes even better than the original ones, according to Mr. Koch.
The clearness of an enlarged picture depends entirely upon the clearness
of the original photo. If the picture was taken on a bright day and the outlines are good, the enlargement will be clearer than the actual photograph.

Photos finished in natural colors
are also receiving a greater demand.
Although the coloring, which is a tedious process, increases the cost of the picture somewhat, it usually adds
so much to a good photo that people are more than glad to pay the difference. The work is done with transparent oil colors.

Mr. Koch finds that the greatest demand for enlarged photos comes just before Christmas. He explains this chiefly to the desire of people to procure suitable pictures for Christmas presents. Colored photos are also greatly in demand and early fall is also a busy time for the photographers.
Mr. Koch states. This is the time of the year when the majority of people take their vacations, and also the time when they take more pictures than at any other period during the 12 months. Many people have from 15 to 20 rolls of films to be developed when they return home.

Although people have their pictures taken at all ages, there are certain periods in the life of the average individual when he takes the camera on numerous occasions,
and other periods when they do not see a photographer's camera for years.

More people have pictures of themselves when they were under five years of age than at any other stage of their life. Between the ages of five and 17 or 18 years, the number of photographs one has taken are few and far between. This is the age when a session with the photographer is regarded as an ordeal.

Upon graduation from high school,
however, the average person has his picture taken again, and from that time until he reaches the age about 25, he will be a fairly regular customer of the photographer.

Perhaps he goes to college. At the end of four years in college he will have half a dozen photographs
of himself taken at half a dozen different times. He is in the romantic age—an age which calls for pictures.

The last picture which he will have taken of himself for many years to come will be at the time of his marriage. To be sure, he does not intend to neglect this matter
for such a long time, but the fact remains that this is usually the case.

The next picture is not taken until the latter stage of life is reached.
Then it is only at an occasion such as a sudden wedding anniversary or some similar event. And oftentimes this is the last picture.

Crop Reports Should Put Heart Into U. S. Merchants

Babson Park, Mass.—Now that the crops have been harvested Roger W.
Babson has issued his annual statement on the crop situation. It is rather optimistic and should put heart into merchants of every community. Mr.
Babson's official statement is as follows:

"Our real blessings we accept as a matter of course. We seem to struggle and worry about the unimportant
things of life and accept without comment the great big things. Surely this applies to the bountiful harvests with which our country is blessed year after year, a blessing equalled in no other nation on the face of the earth. Of itself the very greatness and bounty of the crops so staggers
one that it is difficult to render them adequate appreciation. Considering that they are largely a gift from the Creator and come from the soil, moisture and sunshine, perhaps man is justified in his hesitancy to take much about this great event, the annual American harvest, concerning which he has had so little to do.

WATCHING CROP REPORTS

"When I was a young man working on Wall Street, twenty-five years ago,
the Government Monthly Crop Report was the most important financial and business news of the month. The entire Western Union telegraph system was held up at noon on the day of the month that the crop report was to be released in order that a few figures could be flashed to every city, town, and hamlet. Stock prices rose and fell in accordance with these simple figures, which were breathlessly awaited by every wide awake banker, manufacturer, and merchant.

"Today crop reports are issued without arousing hardly any interest on the part of business men. Instead of these crop reports being referred to in great head lines on the front pages
of our newspapers, as was the case
twenty-five years ago, they now appear in an insignificant position on an inside page. Yet our crops are greater and more profitable than ever before. What is the reason for this remarkable lack of interest? The reason is that crops have become so stabl-lized during the past few years; and the reports are so uniformly and consistently good that they cease to be of interest as formerly.

"By the diversification of crops and
by the use of more scientific methods, crop failures in the old sense have been almost eliminated. Although individual farmers do better or do worse
at different seasons, an entire state usually averages up about the same
each year and the country as a whole fares better each year as time rolls
on. There may be a crop failure in one crop in one section; but never in all crops or all sections.

A DECIDING FACTOR

"Instead of local weather being the determining factor, as of old, the wide awake farmer is more interested in world crop conditions. Most sections of the country approximate what they raised the previous year, and generally this approximation is a little greater rather than a little less than that raised the previous year. This means that the prosperity of the farmer is not so dependent upon the volume raised as upon the price of the product. Furthermore, the price today depends upon world conditions rather than on local conditions. To illustrate, the price which the Dakota wheat grower receives depends, not so much on the crop conditions in Dakota, as on the crop conditions in Europe and South America. World crop conditions are today determining the profits of our farmers in the Central West.

"The wheat crop in twenty-nine countries representing 85 per cent of the world production, exclusive of Russia and China, is reported as 2-852,000,000 bushels compared with 2-626,000,000 bushels for the same countries in 1924. Statistics indicate a total world wheat crop of over 3-000,000,000 bushels. The Russia wheat crop is given as double and the corn crop as five times as great in 1924.

"Let me again refer to the great blessings which these bountiful crops
mean to America and the blessings
we today take for granted. I say
'today' because in the early days of our nation's history we set apart,
in November of each year, a day of thanksgiving and prayer for the bountiful crops of the year. The old custom was to have in the springtime, a Fast Day, which was a day devoted to prayer for guidance in connection with the planting and care of the crops. This was followed in the fall by Thanksgiving Day, a day of praise and thanksgiving. The Fast Day has completely gone by while Thanksgiving Day is now observed largely as a matter of form.
Statistics, however, clearly show that we now ought to observe Thanksgiving Day more than ever before, as the bountifulness of our crops is so great. Truly God is very good to us,
—much better than we deserve.

"The total value of farm products based on prices at the farm, for the current season, is estimated at $14-000,000,000. This figure is equal to the aggregate world production of gold for thirty seven years! It exceeds by a marked margin the world's total available supply of gold
for currency purposes; it is $3,000-000,000 greater than the entire foreign war debt to the United States;
it exceeds total merchandise imported and exported last year by $6,000-000,000. It would require three years of record building, such as was witnessed in 1922, 1923 and 1924 to equal this $14,000,000,000. I might give many other illustrations to show
what these crops mean to America,
but let me say in conclusion that they would pay nearly five times all our annual expenses of Government including interest on the funded debt. They represent five times the value of all our shipping and the value of one year's crop would almost purchase the country's entire railway system, or anything else desired.

"General business is still on its upward turn, it now registering 11 per cent above normal by the Babsonchart. The feeling is distinctly better in most sections of the country.
Again Wall Street was right in discounting these improved conditions.
Let us all so act that we may now hold them—let us not again become careless, lazy, extravagant, and dishonest, and thereby destroy those conditions and qualities which make business sound."

RAILS EARNING POWER IS LOST

Railroads Have Never Recovered Earning Capacity
Since Government Control

The subject of railway earnings is one of unusual interest at present because of the western rate advance
case and the fact that the net operating income being earned by the railways as a whole is showing substantial increases. The Railway Age publishes in its current issue an editorial entitled "How Much are the Railways Earning?" in which it says:
"The total amount of net operating income earned in the first eight months of this year was larger than the amount earned in the corresponding month of any previous year. The only real measure of the prosperity of an industry, however, is the percentage earned on its property investment or its valuation. There was no valuation before the war and therefore to get a satisfactory measure of the present prosperity of the roads it is necessary to compare the return
now being earned on their property investment with the return earned by them in prior to the war.

"In 1916 the net operating income of the railways was the largest in its history, and yielded a return of 5.9 per cent on property investment. Since that year, however, the investment in the Class I roads has increased from $17,637,000,000 to about $28,535,000,000, or almost $8,000,000-000.

LITTLE MONEY
RATE HEAD SAYS

Business of Collecting Debts
Becoming Harder Year
After Year

There is less money in circulation
now than at any other period during the past 15 years, according to H. P.
Breton, manager of The Wisconsin Rating League. Mr. Breton has been located in the city as head of the organization for 12 years handling collections and adjustments everywhere, consequently he is in a position to know.

"The scarcity of money has been especially noticeable in the last four or five years, he declares. Before that time collections were a comparatively simple matter. Such is not the condition now, however.

"Collecting bills has become twice as hard as in the past few years," said Mr. Breton. "There are two reasons for this. First and foremost,
there is less money in circulation now.
Second, people are becoming more acquainted with laws and with methods of eluding their financial obligations.

"The laboring man working by the day is the hardest individual to collect a bill from, in the opinion of Mr.
Breton. He has made himself familiar with laws governing the payment of debts and is becoming more and more adept at eluding his creditors.

A man must earn at least $150 in three months before any of his wages
can be garnished. Many individuals who get only $60 per month will work
at a place for about two and one-half months and quit, remain unemployed
for a while and then take another job
at a different firm and work there for the same length of time. In this manner they are able to prevent their creditors from garnishing their wages.

Any bill not paid for six years becomes outlawed and cannot be collected. Creditors who cannot receive payments on their bills usually prevent them from becoming outlawed
by suing their debtors and securing judgment against them. If this is done, the bill holds good for another six years.

As in the case of all collection agencies, there are some bills given them which never can be collected. Such a bill is kept by the agency for about one year. If at the end of that time it has been definitely established that the bill cannot be collected, it is returned to creditor who disposes of it as he can.

When a bill is received by the agency for collection, a letter is sent the debtor with the request that he take some steps toward effecting a settlement of the bill. If no attention is paid
the letter, a second and finally a third letter is written. When no response is received at the end of that time, legal proceedings are started against the debtor. This process usually brings him to some agreement for settling the debt.

The amount of business which the Wisconsin Rating League has on hand serves as a barometer of conditions in the business world. When the organization has few bills for collection, it is indicative that money is plentiful and that the majority of people are paying for their purchases as they get them.

If there are many bills on hand for collection, it shows that money is scarce and that people are buying on credit. Such is the case at the present time. It is from this observation that Mr. Breton believes money is scarce this year.

Mr. Breton is assisted in his work of conducting the Wisconsin Rating League by Miss Pearl M. Voight, secretary. She has been engaged in the work for about six years.

MELTING ICE FORMS BAY

NANAIMO, B. C.—Two glaciers in northern Canada have melted and opened the district to a good harbor.
When the international boundary line
was fixed between Alaska and Yukon territory it ran through two big gla-

its name. Since that time the glaciers have melted and the bay now extends across the Canadian territory.

A. A. L. RESERVE BY 4 MILLION MARK ON OCT. 1

Membership Now Is $3,879,
With 6,057 Added This Year—Near Half Million in Risks

Reserve funds for the Aid Association for Lutherans exceeded the $4,000,000 mark during the month of September and the membership now is approximately 45,000, according to reports submitted to the board of trustees by the officers at the monthly meeting in Insurance-bldg. Thursday. It is expected that the amount of insurance in force by Jan. 1, 1926 will be half a billion.

Gains for the month of September were 669 members who subscribed for insurance amounting to $835,000. There were 16 deaths during that time for which $12,500 was paid out to beneficiaries.

The reserve fund on Oct. 1 was $4,010,000, which is $823,000 more than on Oct. 1, 1924. The total membership on Oct. 1 was 43,879 and the amount of insurance in force, $45,746,394. The association has added 6,057 members in the first nine months of this year.

Methods which will be used in handling the children's insurance which is to be introduced the first of the year were discussed informally by the board. Final action will be taken on this matter by the board of directors at its semi-annual meeting in December.

She undertakes to tame him, and to educate him into manifesting his unquestioned love for her. To do so she impersonates her gas and somewhat wayward twin sister from Paris, and the results are both disastrous and amusing.

Ronald Colman, one of the screen's most popular leading men, has the principal male role and supporting players include such prominent names as George K. Arthur and Margaret Mann.

THE HORSE HAS HIS DAY AGAIN IN "PONY EXPRESS"

The days when the horse reigned supreme came back for a month during the filming of James Cruze's "The Pony Express" on location near Cheyenne, Wyoming.

No automobiles were allowed on the main street of the town of Julesburg, Colorado—rebuilt as it existed in 1860.

Horses nodded contentedly at hitting posts. Pony Riders dashed in at top speed around the corner without fear of being honked at or colliding with a careless driver. Teams were hitched here and there, wagon trains made their way through the main street unmolested by the roar of a motor, the clashing of gears, or the shriek of a klaxon.

For a month the city was the most unique in the country. There wasn't a "No Parking" sign or a "Loading Zone" on the whole street. There were no traffic officers and tags were unknown.

Not only the horses seemed to enjoy it but most of the actors in the picture, including the featured player, Betty Compson. Ricardo Cortez, Ernest Torrence and Wallace Berry, liked the rest from the dynamic rush of life a little.

"The Pony Express," which opens at Fischer's Appleton Theatre next Monday was novelized by Henry James Forman and Walter Woods. Other prominent names in the strong supporting cast are George Bancroft, Frank Jackelton, John Fox, Jr., William Turner, Al Hart, Charles Gerson, Rose Tapley and Vendell Darr.

The Secret of Success Depends on Health

It is a fact that only about one person out of three enjoys good health. That occasional headache; that tired, exhausted feeling, loss of appetite, the casual cold—all these are danger signals you should heed. Nature is warning you of impending sickness. Seemingly trivial symptoms tell of serious troubles taking root in your body. And yet, ninety-nine people out of every hundred will absolutely ignore these danger signals. As long as they are not flat on their backs, they will fool themselves into believing that they are all right. I want to talk to you. The fact that you have been treated elsewhere without benefit does not discourage me in the least, I am helping men and women every day, affecting cures, many times in cases pronounced incurable by others, so that I feel sure I can do much for you. My counsel will cost you nothing but my charges for treatment will be reasonable and not more than you will be willing to pay for the benefits conferred.

KIDS WILL SEE ELKS' COMEDY

Elks Urged to Buy Extra Ticket to Be Given to Deserving Youngster

There will be dozens of happy boys in Appleton Oct. 26 and 27 when Appleton Elks will stage their musical comedy "The Jollies of 1925." For each Elk has been requested by the entertainment committee to buy an extra ticket for the show, and give it to some worthy boy, thus helping out the lodge, and providing an enjoyable evening for the youngster. A letter has been sent out to all Appleton Elks urging them to push the ticket selling campaign. Every member of the Appleton lodge was given a number of tickets early in October, and they were expected to dispose of them in a few days.

The letter just sent out by the entertainment committee states that the twofold purpose of staving the show is to raise funds for charity work, and for Elk welfare work.

GREAT-GRANDMA, 67, TAKES YOUTH OF 25 AS THIRD HUSBAND

Waupaca—When Gordon Darling of Bear Creek married Mrs. Plok Smith of Manawa, widow of Plok Smith long a resident of that community, he acquired some relationships that are a bit unusual for a man of his comparatively tender years. Mr. Darling is aged 25 years and his bride is aged 67. She is a great-grandmother and Mr. Darling as her husband becomes at the age of 25 years a great grandfather of course. He is father to two women each past 40 years of age and people in the early twenties. It is probable that Mr. Darling holds the record for paradoxical relationships. This is the woman's third marriage.

Bigger On Greenback---

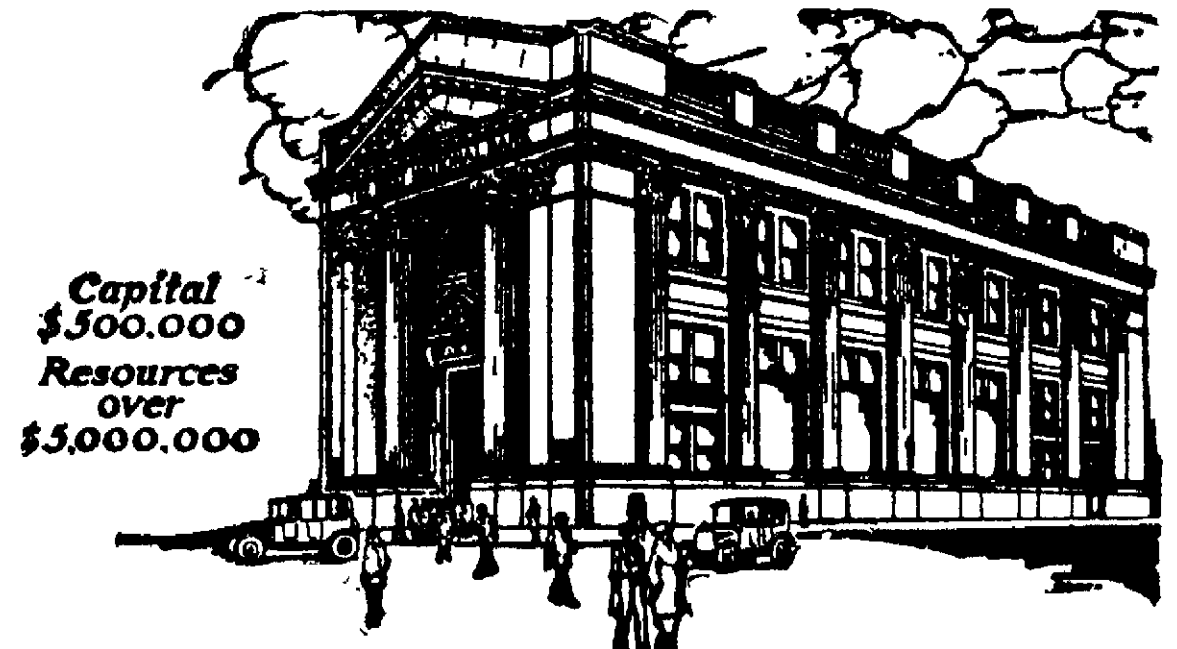

In ancient times many alchemists devoted the whole of their lives to trying to make dross into gold. They didn't succeed.

It takes a mighty clever magician now-a-days to make the number on a greenback grow bigger — to change a one into a five, then ten then twenty, then fifty, and a hundred or a thousand. No magician has been able to do it with absolute safety, excepting the greatest magician of them all—a savings account.

LUNCHES FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

To think right the child must have the right kind of food. The noon lunch is one of the most important school problems. It is not easy to make food attractive and to keep it clean when it must be packed and carried in a lunch basket.
This Bureau has for distribution a booklet which contains various bills of fare for the basket lunch, suggestions as to the proper method of packing, and recipes for sandwiches, cookies, salads and sweets. This is a free Government publication and our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy for any reader who fills out and mails the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. MILLER RUBBER MEETS MONDAY TO REORGANIZE

Step Necessary to Permit Issuance of Par Value Common Stock Shares

Akron, O. — A special meeting of stockholders of the Miller Rubber Company will be held here Oct. 19th for the purpose of considering and acting upon the reorganization of the company, pursuant to state laws, so as to permit the issuance of shares of common stock without par value.

In a letter to common stockholders of the company, President Jacob Pfeiffer makes this announcement:

"The Directors of your Company are pleased to report that it has a large and profitable business on its books and in immediate prospect. In order to accept the business available it is advisable for it to increase its working capital. The Directors deem it advisable also to modernize its capital structure and thus to provide a better market for your common stock.

"Your Directors have carefully considered all these matters and have agreed upon a plan which they now recommend for your consideration and approval.

"It is proposed (subject to the plan of reorganization heretofore referred to) to now sell $4,000,000.00 par value of the unissued 8 per cent cumulative stock of the company at $103.50 per share, first offering the same to the common stockholders of the Company, and also to change capitalization of the company so that it will have a total authorized issue of 600,000 shares of capital stock—400,000 of which will be common stock without par value and 200,000 of which will be 8 per cent cumulative preferred stock.

"Under the proposed plan, the terms and provisions of the present preferred stock and the par value thereof will in no way be changed or affected but the authorized amount thereof will be reduced to 200,000 shares. The holders of the common stock will receive five shares of the new no-par common stock of the Company in exchange for each share of the present outstanding common stock.

"You are hereby offered for subscription, at the price of $103.50 per share, such proportion of the additional issue of the above mentioned 400,000 shares of preferred stock as your present shares of common stock bear to the whole number of shares of common stock now outstanding. You are therefore, entitled for each 5 1/2 shares of your present holdings of common stock to subscribe for approximately 4 shares of the preferred stock now offered for subscription and sale.

"The Board of Directors deem it to the best interests of this Company and its stockholders that the plan of reorganization herein referred to be adopted."

BIG 8 MONTHS GAIN SEEN BY GRAHAM BROS.

Two-thirds of 1925 Production Surpasses Same Period Last Year 105 Per Cent

Official figures disclose the fact that production of trucks by the entire industry during the first eight months of 1925 exceeded the figures for the corresponding period of 1924 by 23 per cent, according to R. K. Wolter, of The Wolter Implement & Auto Co., local Dodge Brothers dealer.

"Compared with this sound, healthy gain made by the industry as a whole," explained Mr. Wolter, "Graham Brothers sales increase of 103 per cent for the first eight months of this year over sales for the same months last year is convincing evidence of public recognition of the merit of their product."

"An annual increase in sales of over 100 per cent is not unusual with Graham Brothers," Mr. Wolter continued. "Their sales in 1922 exceeded their 1921 sales by 154 per cent, 1923 exceeded 1922 by 105 per cent, and 1924 exceeded 1923 by 54 per cent. The 1925 growth would logically be expected by anyone who is familiar with their policy of giving the greatest possible truck value at the lowest possible cost."

"To produce sufficient trucks to supply the constantly growing demand has necessitated repeated and extensive enlargements in manufacturing facilities. When Graham Brothers moved into their new Detroit factory, July first this year, their 250,000 square feet represented a 10-fold increase in floor space in Detroit in a little over four years. In addition to this modern steel and concrete building, ideally laid out for economical manufacture of high-grade trucks, and to their immense plant in Evansville, Ind., Graham Brothers have a plant, opened this summer, in Stockton, California, to manufacture trucks required by their dealers in the Pacific Coast and the Rocky Mountain States.

"Within the few months since the Stockton plant was opened the rapidly increasing demand in the far western states has far exceeded expectations and it is understood that plans are already being made to increase its size.

"Graham Brothers have also a large factory in Toronto, Ontario, to supply the constantly growing Canadian market for their trucks.

"As improved facilities and increased production have reduced manufacturing costs the savings have been shared with the buyer in the form of price reductions. But at the same time the truck has been constantly improved—never has any change been made except to give the buyer a better truck.

"The rise of Graham Brothers in the short period of five years to its position they now occupy—first in the production of 1 1/2-ton trucks is certain evidence that the public recognizes the merit of their product.

SMALL AUTOS GET POPULAR

Popularity Brought on by Many Parking and Traffic Problems in Cities

"Parking and traffic problems have caused the small car to gain in popularity during the past few years and manufacturers have responded with a score of light machines with short wheelbases at very moderate prices," says Mr. Al. Schroeder, of the local Willard Battery Station.

"The advent of the moderate priced car has brought out many moderate priced accessories and a desire for less expensive equipment. Batteries for this type of car have been under development by the Willard Company for some time," he claims.

Willard has never made a cheap battery nor have they cheapened their good battery to take care of the small car needs, according to Mr. A. Schroeder. Instead they have developed a good battery at a low price to fill the bill. Although they are the exclusive makers of batteries with Threaded Rubber Insulation, Willard has always made a wood insulated battery and this battery has been refined for the light car. Increased demand on the part of the car manufacturers for this type of battery has enabled the Willard factory to go into large production, with the result that better wood insulated Willard batteries are available for small automobiles at lower prices than ever before.

GIVE SERVICE, BUICK'S MOTTO

Manufacturer Does Not Believe Obligation Ceases When Car Is Sold

Buick has not felt content with building long life and satisfactory service into its product. It does not believe that its obligation ceases when the car is sold.

The Buick motto is that a Buick owner is entitled to efficient service, courteously rendered, at a fair price. This motto is responsible for the establishment of dealer Authorized Service Stations in practically every city and town in the United States, and in many foreign countries.

Wherever the Buick Authorized Service sign is found, genuine Buick parts may be obtained at a uniform price. That is, the cost of a new part is exactly the same in San Francisco as in Boston or at any other point. Service charges are fair and reasonable, and a flat rate service charge for various major operations is very largely in vogue. A Buick owner is assured of genuine Buick parts at a fair price and of repair charges that are fair if he patronizes Buick Authorized Service Stations.

Buick has gone still further in building up an efficient service organization by supporting a school where mechanics are trained and made specialists in servicing Buick cars. Students for this school are recruited from the ranks of the dealer organization, and from others interested in this work.

PREDICT ERA OF SPEEDY, LIGHT AND CHEAP CAR

Walter Chrysler Foresees Day of Low Priced 90-mile an hour Automobile

The next important change in motor characteristics is to be in the high priced car field, says Walter P. Chrysler to the Wall Street Journal. The large, heavy motor car of today is to be superseded very soon by a light and extremely efficient car which will run 90 miles an hour and yield 100 horse power, he said.

This coming evolution in the exclusive cars will also be accompanied by a 25 per cent reduction in cost, Mr. Chrysler believes. The following is a prediction by the famous motor manufacturer when asked the question, "What is the next important change of to be expected in the motor industry?"

"The next two years will see the most revolutionary changes in the history of motor cars. The over-size, over-weight car cannot survive even in the limited quantities in which the highest priced automobiles are produced today. The recent swing toward lighter cars in the popular priced field is more than a mere trend.

"The whole industry has recognized the arrival of the compact, light, but high quality popular-priced car which caused an about-face in popular taste and I unhesitatingly predict that within two years the most luxurious cars will have followed in the same path."

"The new type in the higher price field will be a larger and roomier car than existing successful models in the popular field, will contain all the quality and luxury that can be built into a car and will offer extremes in performance that will surpass anything now manufactured.

"The coming exclusive car will have 100 horse power and be able to obtain without heating continuous high speeds up to 90 miles an hour for sustained intervals. Riding comfort in this future car will surpass anything at any price which now moves on wheels.

"An era in unexampled motor car performance is in the offing. These results will be brought about by superior design and a manufacturing industry revealed since the light, compact car came into existence two years ago.

KING AND QUEEN GET INTERESTED IN FORD AUTOS

English Royal Party Given Five Minutes to Visit Exhibit, Takes Half Hour

When King George and Queen Mary visited the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley recently the official time card prepared by the King's advisors permitted a five minutes' stay at the Ford Motor Company's exhibit, but when the royal couple reached the exhibit they became so interested that they remained for half an hour.

Each asked eager questions and manifested deep interest both in manufacturing methods and demonstrations of Ford car quality. An assembly line, similar to the one which drew so much attention in New York during the Automobile show season last January, particularly attracted their majesties.

"Wonderful," exclaimed the King as a completed car was driven off the end of the line and skillfully turned around in the narrow space available.

Both the King and Queen asked numerous questions about the welfare of the employees. Working conditions of the men and their living conditions and wages were of particular interest to the Queen, as was the incident of a laborer who started in the Ford plant at Manchester at the minimum wage and rose to a salary of 5,000 pounds a year.

Sighting the 250,000th British made Ford car, which was on display, King George was prompted to inquire the yearly production figures in England. It was informed that 40,000 Ford cars are made in England annually by British workmen.

"No wonder the roads are so crowded" was his Royal observation. Before leaving, both the King and Queen signed the visitor's register.

NEW SALES MARK FOR STUDEBAKER

As Many Cars Sold Up to Sept. 28 This Year as in Entire Year of 1924

At 3 o'clock on the afternoon of September 28th, shipment of motor cars from the Studebaker factories passed the entire shipments made by Studebaker in the year of 1924.

This record sale was made possible by three factors of manufacture which have kept the factories running at capacity and overtime during the entire summer, through September and into October.

The three factors, as set forth by officials of the corporation, are:

1. One-profit Production: $60,000,000 invested in plants and equipment for the manufacture of all of the vital parts of the car.
2. Unit-Built Construction: all the aforementioned vital parts being designed, engineered, and manufactured by one concern for each other, they function as a unit; no sacrifice of engineering, designing, or constructing.
3. The Company's adoption of the policy of not bringing out new year models has stabilized the value of Studebaker cars. The Company had been building a large volume of reserve mileage into its cars, yet this was wasted each year when new models depreciated the existing cars by 40 per cent. The purchase of a car now becomes a permanent investment in transportation not merely an annual outlay for style.

With three full months to go, Studebaker's 1925 sales are well on the way to establishing a new annual sales record.

LIVING IN PAST

San Francisco—Columbia, Calif., has just made an official count of its population, a small job it was too! At one time this town boasted not only a population of 15,000 and a position of third largest city in the state, but also it claimed a gold yield of approximately $60,000,000. The count showed 300 inhabitants but they all say that the old town's coming back some day!

need he made to fit one part to another.

The FLAPPER WIFE

by Beatrice Burton © 1925 NEA SERVICE INC.

A month ago Gloria would have sneered inwardly at her neighbor's chatter. But now she listened with interest. She had found out the joy that lies in putting a good meal on the table for a well-loved husband!

There was as much romance in cooking corned-beef-and-cabbage as there was in writing a love letter. It all depended upon the person for whom you cooked it!

"If I hadn't made such a mess of things I might be getting dinner for Dick myself, right this minute. . . waiting for him to come home. . . she thought regretfully, as she peeled her tomatoes.

It wasn't until after she had eaten her lonely meal and put the dishes away that she began to wonder why she had come there to the house that seemed still to be alive with Dick.

"I ought to go back to mother's," she told herself. "There's no point in getting soft and sentimental about Dick now, when he hates me. . . If I had any sense I'd divorce him and forget him. I suppose. There must be some one else somewhere who could make me happy. . . But she knew there wasn't anybody else who could.

She closed and locked the doors and windows of the house, and went upstairs.

Her own room . . . with its silk curtains rustling in the night wind. . . Ah, it was the sanctuary she needed! Away from everyone who would question her or give her advice.

Tomorrow she'd brace up and get a job. She'd face the world, and whatever was ahead of her. But tonight she'd stay here, hidden and at peace.

She thought of the months before her marriage when she and Dick had come here every day to watch the builders at their work of making a home for just the two of them. . . She remembered how Dick had watched her as she went around the half-finished house, planning the furniture that was to go into it. He had loved her then! . . . Could it be possible that he had no feeling at all for her now?

"I'm going to telephone him right now and tell him to come here! I want to see him!" Gloria said suddenly, moved by an impulse stronger than herself.

She called the number of the old Gregory residence. "What'll I say to him?" she thought in panic, as she waited for him to answer. "I haven't any excuse for seeing him, have I?"

But to her intense relief, it was not Dick's voice, but Mother Gregory's that answered the phone.

"This is Gloria, speaking," the girl said. "Is Dick there, please?" "No, he's not," Mother Gregory's full voice snapped off the words. "He came home to dinner, but he's gone out for the evening."

"All right . . . goodbye," Gloria faltered.

"Wait a minute!" Mother Gregory cried. "I want to say a word to you, Gloria. . . I think you'd better not telephone Dick again. There's no use in keeping him stirred up all the time. . . You two have agreed to disagree, and you'd better stick to it!"

Gloria had no answer. "Gloria, did you hear me?" Dick's mother asked, after a moment.

"Yes," she heard Gloria whisper. And she hung up the receiver.

Mother Gregory turned away from the telephone to meet Dick coming in from the back yard. "Why, I thought you'd gone!" she said in surprise. "And I just told a fib without knowing it. . . Gloria called up, and I said you'd gone out for the evening."

Dick considered. "I guess it's just as well you did," he said after a time. "We don't get anywhere, talking things over. It's just a waste of time."

His mother drew a long breath that caused all the black jet beads to heave on her vast bosom. "I certainly am glad to hear you say that," she declared. "Your father and I have been afraid you'd go back to her, all along. She's not the woman for you, Dick, and never was!"

Dick twirled his hat in his hands. "I came back for my brief-case," he said. "Have you seen it?" His mother walked into the living room and returned with it in her capable hands. "A place for everything and everything in its place," she quoted. "If you'd only put that brief case on the hall table you'd always know where it was! . . . Where are you going?"

"Down to the office," Dick answered shortly.

His mother followed him out onto the wide side-porch that overlooked the driveway and the back yard.

"Now, don't be silly and call Gloria up," she said, as he bent to kiss her good-bye.

"She probably didn't want to say much of anything, anyway," Dick answered, "but I think I'll give her a ring and see what she wanted."

He resented his mother's advice. Didn't she realize that he was a grown man, well over thirty? Or did mothers always feel that way about their sons—that they were still little boys, even when their hair turned gray?

At the first drug store Dick stopped and went in to telephone his wife at her mother's house.

"Why, Gloria's not here!" Mrs. Gordon said, when she answered the phone. "Don't you know where she is?"

"How should I know?" Dick asked helplessly. "When did she leave the house?"

"About five o'clock."

"Well, she called me about an hour ago," Dick said. "When she comes home ask her to call me at my office, will you?"

He climbed into his car and drove downtown at break-neck speed, so as not to miss Gloria's next telephone message when she called again.

That is, if she did call again. . . To unlock the door of his office and went in. Miss Briggs was sitting at her desk, with her long white hands draped over the keys of her typewriter. She looked as if she had been sitting that way a long time.

"I thought I told you not to work late these hot nights, Susy," Dick said severely, closing the outer door behind him.

"I'm not working," Miss Briggs answered, dully. "And it's not late—only eight o'clock."

As she spoke a clock somewhere across the roofs of the city chimed eight.

"Has Mrs. Gregory called up here tonight for me?" was Dick's next question.

Miss Briggs shook her smooth brown head. "No," she said, almost inaudibly.

She sat motionless. Only her blue eyes moved as she watched him take off his hat and hang it up. He picked up his briefcase from the chair where he had laid it and turned toward his private office.

Sue Briggs could see that there was a sort of restlessness upon him. He seemed to be waiting feverishly for something vital-stupendous.

"Be sure to call me if she does phone," he said, as he went into his office.

In a minute or two he came out again.

"Call up Mrs. Gregory's mother and ask if she's there, please," he said. "You know the number, don't you?"

Miss Briggs knew the number. She had called it scores of times for Dick during the months he had been engaged to Gloria. . . It had always hurt her abominably to call that number. It hurt her now, like an old wound. But she called the number in a brisk, cheerful voice.

"No, she hasn't come in," she reported to Dick. "Her mother says she doesn't know when to expect her."

Dick ran his hand through his dark hair. "But, good Lord! Where is she?" he asked, unaware that he spoke aloud.

"Mrs. Gregory came into the office this morning to see you," she said, huskily.

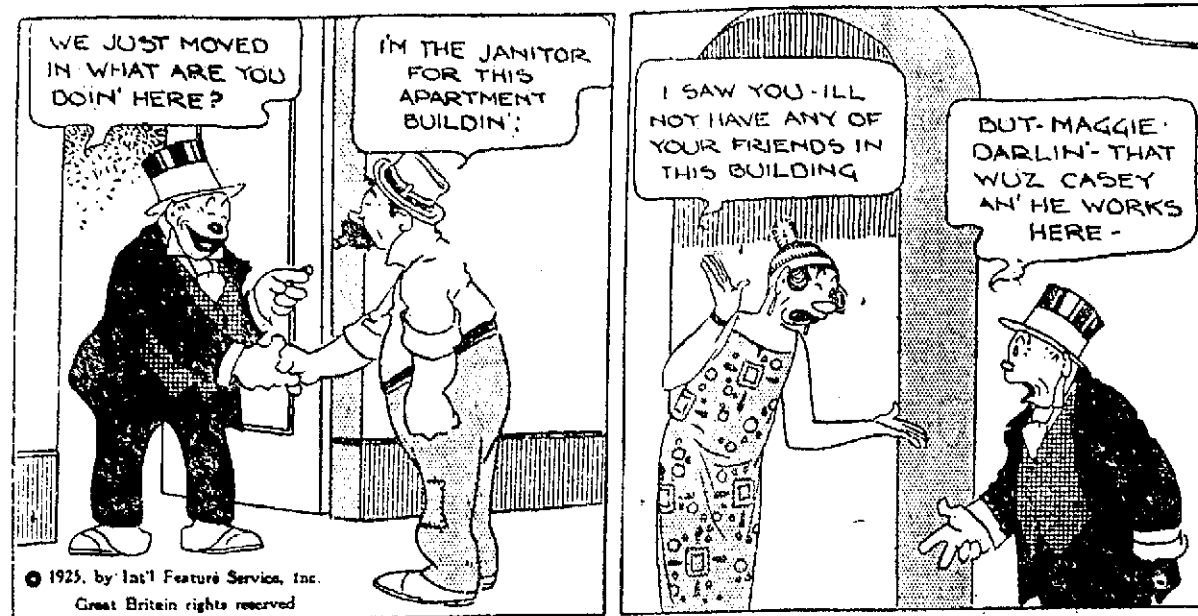

Dick wheeled. "Why didn't you tell me?" he asked sharply. "Where was I when she was here?"

"You had just gone out to lunch," Susan Briggs answered, "and I forgot to tell you about it."

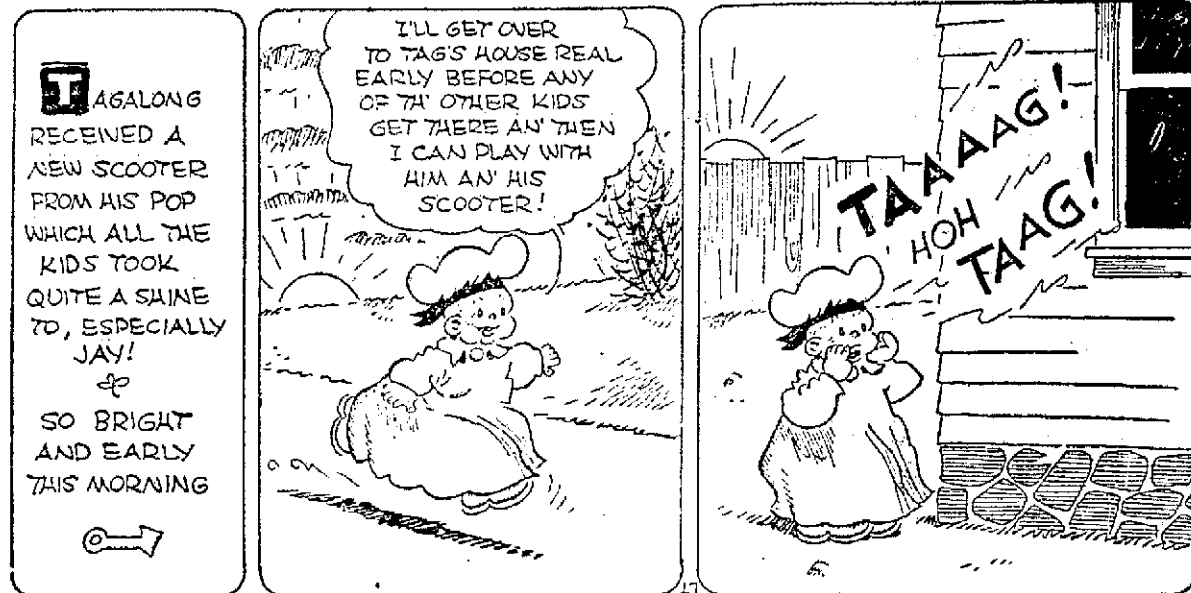

A telltale blush mounted to her face. She had not forgotten to tell Dick! . . . She hadn't wanted to tell him about Gloria's visit. And Dick knew it.

Columbia-Ohio State And Indiana-Syracuse Games Are Only Intersectionals

Three Big Ten Battles Will Go Long Way in Deciding Early Title Ratings

Chicago—Two intersectional games and three clashes involving Western Conference title chances were the choice dishes on the midwest football menu Saturday.

Columbia was the guest of Ohio State at Columbus and Indiana entertained Syracuse in the opening of the new Hoover stadium at Bloomington. Conference title chances of the Buckeyes and Hoosiers were not involved.

Interest in the conference melee was split among the Wisconsin-Michigan meetings at Madison, Iowa-Illinois at Iowa City and Chicago-Northwestern in Chicago. Upon these games depended the reduction of undefeated teams in the title campaign nine to six and the favorites from seven to four.

MASTER VS PUPIL

Master and pupil respectively led the Wolverines and Badgers. George Little, Wisconsin mentor formerly was Coach Yost's aide and previous to that one of his star players. Both strategists have had heavy scoring machines. Michigan downed Indiana and took the lead in the conference race last week while Wisconsin's goal has not been crossed in two non-conference clashes. Against Red Grange, the ill-timed terror of the chalklines, was pitted against Cowboy Nick Kutsch of the Hawks, leading point scorer of the Big Ten who ran wild as a "point a minute" performer against St. Louis last week. Illinois had a speedier backfield and the advantage of their experience in two games of note.

Years of grudge were behind the meeting of Northwestern and Chicago. Two wily, seasoned bands of attack were theirs. The Purple being named off for swiftness and runs and short passes while the Stagmen were geared for a powerful line bucking offense.

State honors were involved in the Purdue-Rose Poly encounter at Lafayette and Minnesota's preliminary with Wabash was considered preparation for the Notre Dame game next week.

RAINBOW GARDENS WIN MATCH FROM HOPPIES

The Rainbow Gardens bowling squad took three straight games from the Hoppie Miners Tuesday evening on the Eagle alleys with B. Wellhouse and K. Koltzke leading the winners with games of 236 and 228 respectively. Not a man on the losers' list hit the 200 mark. R. Hoffman being high with 90. The winners gained a 101 net lead over the Vesperan. Rainbow Gardens—Johnston 102, 154, 162, 447; C. Currie 139, 139, 131, 411; B. Wellhouse 190, 236, 183, 609; C. Koenig 197, 188, 111, 526; K. Koltzke 228, 151, 164, 547; totals 908, 897, 815, 2618.

Hopie's Winners—E. Weisner 181, 150, 171, 502; E. Kott 167, 151, 188, 506; E. Smith 178, 150, 166, 521; H. Hoffman 166, 162, 159, 518; H. Smith 171, 175, 156, 185; totals 879, 827, 841, 2517.

Team Which Whipped Bay Packers Ready For Tilt

Green Bay—The Rock Island Independents, one of the strongest teams in the National Football League and the Green Bay Packers, will lock horns here on Sunday at the city stadium before a crowd that promises to be a record breaker. The kick off is at 2:15 and Halsey Hall of St. Paul, Minn., will referee. Regulation periods of 15 minutes are to be played.

The husky Islanders haven't been defeated this season and they are sitting at the top of the Pro league percentage table, along with Detroit and Akron. Two other clean slate eleven, Rock Island opened the season by playing the game with the Bears. Then they battled to a no decision at argument with the Dayton Triangles. Following this contest, they broke the Packers' string of wins by a 3 to 0 victory and last Sunday played around with Duluth, taking the Northwestern into camp, 12 to 0 without much trouble.

TWO ALL AMERICANS

Rock Island has a pair of All Americans in the line up. Duke Slater, former Iowa tackle, and J. H. Wilderquist, an ex-W and J guard, are the members of the gridiron honor roll. However, these two stars are not the only ones of the Rock Island machine. Rhoddy Lamb, a product of Lombard college, is just about the fastest pigskin chaser ever seen on a post graduate gridiron while Little Twigg, formerly of Carlisle, has a reputation of being a rough and tumble end, second to none.

Armstrong, the Independents quarterback, is a speed merchant and brilliant passer. In Buck Gavin, who played with the Packers in 1923, Rubie Ursella and Eddie Novak, the Islanders have a trio of veteran backs who know all the "ins and outs" of the pro game. Kolls, the center is a tough boy on the gridiron; Rooney is a clever end and Cotton, Notre Dame, a corking good tackle. It is a rugged outfit and the club that beats is going to have a whole lot to say about the National football championship.

LINEUP OF TEAMS

The probable lineup is as follows:

Green Bay	Rock Island
O'Donnell, Wilkins	L E Little Twigg
Buck	L T Cotton
Jean, Woodin	L G Thompson
Larson	C Kolls
Gardner, Abramson	R T Wilderquist
Garner	R T Slater
Vergant	R E Rooney
Mathys	Q B Armstrong
Norton, Lewellen	L T Lamb
Lambeau	R H Novak
Basing, Harris	F B Gavin
Referee, Hall	St. Paul, Umpire
Harris, Duluth	Head Linesman
Wiley, Indiana	Time of periods, 15 minutes. Kick off 2:15.

ISLANDERS IN SHAPE

Rock Island—Manager George Johnson of the Rock Island Independents has announced that his clan of gridiron performers are in the best of shape for the Pro league game against Green Bay on Sunday and that he is confident that the Islanders will keep their record clean by handling the Packers another defeat.

Rock Island has put in a good week of practice. The team has built up a defense against forward passes besides drilling hard on an air drive. good week of practice. The team has built up a defense against forward passes besides drilling hard on an air drive.

The Rock Islanders contingent on the Green Bay trip will be composed of: Little Twigg, Cotton, Thompson, Kolls, Wilderquist, Slater, Rooney, Armstrong, Novak, Ursella, Gavin, Lamb, Burton, DeClerk, Herman, Anderson, McCarthy, Manager George Johnson, President Walter Bowley and several newspaper men from the Tri Cities.

NEW LONDON IN EASY WIN 32-0 FROM MANAWA

Charlesworth Makes 85-yard Run for Touchdown "Fat" Ladwig Takes 'em in Arms

New London—The high school football warriors defeated Manawa high school on the local gridiron Friday afternoon, by a score of 32 to 0, in a spectacular and amusing game.

The game was featured by an 85-yard run for a touchdown by Charlesworth, when he received a punt by a long run by Jilison for a touchdown, after he had caught a long pass, by long end runs and passes on the part of the Red and White squad; and by the new system of tackling which was introduced by Ladwig, halfback.

Ladwig, called "Fat", a pile of good natured beef over six feet tall, but the backbone of the Red and White eleven found it difficult, on account of his extreme height and size, to reach down to tackle some of the little Manawa players, who composed a light team. So, when one of the westerners would take a notion, after he had gained possession of the pizkin, to cut loose from the rest of the crowd for a run, Fat would just reach out a few feet, and with one long arm, grasp the unfortunate little shaver by the belt, haul him home and cuddle him up tight until the referee decided it was time to blow the whistle. Numerous times Fat ruined what promised to be a spirited attempt at a score by reaching out and grabbing one, saying, with a broad grin, "Hiye, where you goin'?" (Come back here.)

PROTEST UNAVAILING

Manawa rooters, the Manawa coach and other Manawa officials protested at this violent treatment, but to no avail. The referee, upon looking it up in Hyle, announced that there was no rule by which Fat could be induced to indulge in his favorite sport no longer, and Fat gleefully caught one after another in like manner, drawing tumults of laughter from the sidelines.

The game, a one sided affair, started off with Manawa kicking to New London. New London and Manawa both punted, neither able to gain the required ground. The Red and White then came to, and marched down the field to the 50-yard line by a series of line plungers and short end runs. Ten minutes after the game started, Semis, New London fullback, went through center five yards for the first touchdown of the game. He made the kick, and the score promptly became 7-0. The remainder of the half was uninteresting. The only features were a 15-yard penalty on New London for holding, and a 20-yard run by Charlesworth, which ended by his fumbling the ball when he was tackled, and Griswold, Red and White half, recovering it again, saving the bacon. The first half ended 7-0 in the Red and White's favor.

Coach Koten evidently gave the boys some strong talk between halves, for, from the time New London kicked off in the beginning of the second half until the close of the game, they were a bunch of fighting demons. Manawa was dropped on 50-yard line after the kick, and gained two yards. Charlesworth then went around left end for 10 yards; 5 were lost on a fake. Charlesworth to Griswold, when the latter was downed behind the line. New London then missed a long pass and made one of 30 yards. Charlesworth to Ladwig. Charlesworth, quarterback, then went 30 yards around right end for a touchdown. The kick for point was blocked, and the score became 13-0.

ADD TOUCHDOWN

Manawa was held on the 60-yard line after the kickoff, and completed a pass for 30 yards. They were then penalized 15 yards for holding, by Fisher, of Waupaca, who refereed. This ended the third quarter, with the score 13-0 in New London's favor. In the start of the fourth period, Land, who had been put in at left halfback at the start of the half in place of Bocher, intercepted one of Manawa's passes, and went around right end for 20 yards. Charlesworth followed him through the same place for another 30. Griswold went around the same end for 10, putting New London on the Manawa 15-yard line. Charlesworth passed to Jilison, back of the goal line, and the pass of 15 yards was completed for a touchdown. The kick for point was made by Semis, the score becoming 20-0.

After the kickoff, Manawa was stopped on the 60-yard line, and made a long punt to Charlesworth, on her own 55-yard line. Charlesworth circled left end, and brushing off his pursuers and eluding some, he swept down the entire length of the field, and ran 85 yards for a touchdown. After he got started, he was going so fast that the Manawa players gave up the chase on the 30-yard line. The kick for point was blocked, and the score was 26-0.

Manawa was again stopped on the 60-yard line. Coach Koten then began to put in the second team and the entire squad was mostly second stringers at the end of the game. Manawa passed for 5 yards, and missed a long one, then punting. Swoody, at quarterback in place of Charlesworth, came down to the 60-yard line. Bocher passed to Jilison for 30 yards. Jilison let it slip, and Manawa man hit it. Jilison grabbed it again, and marched off for 30 yards and the last touchdown of the game. The kick for point was blocked, and the score became 32-0. Manawa was stopped on the 65-yard line, and made small gains by end runs. Cochrane,

The lanky Louisville boy has the honor of holding two cage captaincies in three years, as he was leader of the Badger frosh squad in 1924. FURNITURE PINMEN TAKE FIRST MATCH

The crack Brettschneider Furniture Co. five started its 1925-26 bowling season Friday evening by taking three straight wins from the Fox River Chevrolet Co., a new local team, at the Olympic alleys, piling up a 225 pin victory. Next Thursday evening the furniture squad will roll the strong Hotel Northern team on the Olympic alleys.

New London lineman, developed a controversy with an opposite player on the Manawa line, and they both proceeded to have it out right there, without further ado. The referee promptly ousted both men, and the game continued, Manawa being at last freer to punt. The game ended with New London on Manawa's 60-yard line and the crowd in an uproar.

Buffalo N. Y.—Quentin Romero Rojas, Chilean heavyweight, won a decision in the ten rounds over Eddie McGovern, the Californian.

STEVENS POINT HIGH BEAT SHAWANO, 23-0

Stevens Point — Stevens Point High school's football team defeated Shawano High here Friday afternoon, 23 to 0, scoring two touchdowns and a drop kick in the final period after playing through nearly three quarters of the game with the score 6 to 0. Fisleigh made the initial touchdown on a wide end run. Spindler and Capt. McDonald each added one in the last period and Gussell dropped kicked successfully. McDonald intercepted a pass for the last touchdown, carrying the ball over the line with less than a minute to play.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

We sure are thankful for the few contributors received this week and hope they keep pouring in by the dozens, to tell others what you think on sports, but before we go any farther we have a request to make. In order to get 'em all in and give the fans a little extra dope we must hold them down to about 70-75 words at the most. Your ideas can be expressed in that much space and though we hate to do it if they run over that we will have to cut the least important parts.

A few Lawrentians are up in arms over the article in last night's paper on the Lawrence-Coe game, saying that it states that "Winkauf" is a more valuable man than Kotal. They are all wet on this as the article clearly states Winkauf's loss was greater to the Blue team than Eddie's, which is true. Catlin has a few good backfield men left, especially in Briese, Heidenan, Zussman and Bert Nason, while the loss of any lineman with the few front wall reserves now out for the squad makes any loss in the line a serious matter, especially with a man who had been worked in as a regular.

Appleton high school ended the week with a snappy practice Friday afternoon. Pfefferle at end looked much improved over his work of last week. He repeatedly turned the play in and tackled low, but was tackled on his side of the line, spoiled things somewhat and made him look bad. Ashman on the other end seemed to lay down during practice and only the work of Voelks who nailed man after man for losses, getting a greater share of the tackles on his side, helped Bob. He tackled high several times, taking off his opponents' headgear and only got one low tackle during the day. If he goes that way against a real foe, it'll be good night Appleton. Kitzinger looked good at quarter for a beginner.

Reports state that Eddie Frieders, regular caller, will be back in the lineup in about three weeks. If this is so the Orange battlefront will be greatly strengthened. Eddie will have to be used only when a touchdown is in sight and his backwork can be made use of, however, for a few weeks. A hard blow on his shoulder would wreck him again. As a signal caller without carrying the ball he probably will get by.

Post-crest bowling sharks are coming to the front rapidly these days and boys, they're going to give you all competition, if you don't watch out. Our boss at the big desk cracked out five strikes in a row and a 155 score yesterday his first in SOME time and Eddie Stenard took a cigar away from us by a pretty 160 game in his first trials of the year.

More local interest will be added to the Appleton-West Green Bay Valley conference battle here next week by the fact that on of the best men in the Purple backfield, Roy Stenard, speedy quarter, is a brother of Eddie Stenard of this city, manager of the 1925 city title American Legion softball squad. The kid, though small is broad shouldered and a speed demon. He was a star last year, but played one complete game in which his runs were the feature of the day. He is a great little sidestepper and Appleton will have to keep a weather eye on him. He worked in a better factory all summer and is as hard as nails, they say.

A report from Fondy gives one the impression that the Fountain city school outplayed Appleton the entire time here last week except the fact the Orange scored a dropkick, 34 far as any spectator could see Fondy merely outplayed the locals right off the reel and at the end of the game for the last five minutes. And in between time it was all Appleton. The article also takes a mean dig at local postmanship, which coming from as friendly an athletic rival as Fondy, sounds bad. Let's forget that the locals spoiled your clear record Fondy, and play ball.

ILLINOIS SEES GRID LUMINARY IN MUEGGE

Coach Bob Zuppke of the Illini believes he has a real gridder in a chap named Muegge, a junior. He plays both center and guard, though standing a better chance of gaining a regular position at the former. Muegge was a sub a year ago, playing for a while in the Minnesota game.

Michigan Squad Looms Up As Most Formidable Crew In Midwest Grid Circles

Work of Backfield and Oosterbaan at End Gives Maize and Blue Big Scoring Machine

Chicago—From early season indications, Michigan looms across the football horizon as one of the most formidable eleven in action this fall. And in its own select circle—the Big Ten—it stands out as the aggregation most likely to cop the Western Conference bunting.

True, the campaign has hardly more than opened, and many startling upsets can occur between now and the end of the chase. But at this writing the Maize and Blue, ably aided by the crafty Yost, seems to have the inside rail.

In its first two clashes of the season the Wolverines surprised the football assembly by counting 102 points. Michigan State gone down, 33-0, and Indiana 63-0. The count against the Hoosiers was one of the largest rolled up in a Big Ten game in quite a stretch.

When Michigan lost such stars as Steger, Slaughter, Steele, Marion and Rockwell of the 1924 eleven, it was generally conceded that Yost and his aids would have a tough time molding together a winner this fall. But frankly, it stacks up as the best machine the Ann Arbor institution has had over a fairly long span.

When the training season commenced a few weeks ago Michigan had no outstanding stars, with the possible exception of Capt. Bob Brown and Benj. Freidman. And prospects, obviously, were anything but bright.

But up from the 1924 frosh eleven came as sensational a group of tots as Yost has gazed upon in seasons. Among others were a lean, lanky chap named Oosterbaan, all state end at Muskegon (Mich.) high; Bob Molenda, fullback from Detroit Northwestern; Gilbert, half from Kalamazoo, and Sammy Backeck, sterling quarterback from Detroit Central.

Yost tried them all out at the opening of the campaign and each has made good with a vengeance. In fact, some of last years' reserves have been ousted by the youngsters. With the arrival of these sophomore-station glom, the team replaced by plenty of optimism.

Michigan, by the way, needs a strong, formidable eleven this season if it ever did. For the 1925 schedule is one of the toughest the Mich.landers have ever tackled.

Outside of Michigan State and Indiana, which have already been disposed of, the Maize and Blue meets Wisconsin, Illinois, Navy, Northwestern, Ohio State and Minnesota. A real bunch of assignments regard less of how you scan the list.

The Wisconsin and Ohio State games stack up as the hardest of the group. If the Yostmen can safely hurdle those two outfits, Michigan cohorts opine their favorites will grab the Big Ten title.

Illinois—well, as far as the Zupke platoon is concerned, it wouldn't be at all surprising if Yost handed his rival some of the latter's own medicine this fall.

Michigan is still smarting under that overwhelming 33-14 defeat of 1924, when the great Grange-made football history, and the Wolverines are out to at least partly avenge that terrible massacre.

Vancouver, B. C.—Vic Foley, Canadian bantamweight champion, won a judges' decision over Joe Lynch of California after ten rounds.

WET FIELDS GREET EASTERN GRID TEAMS

New York (AP)—Wet fields greeted the four leading football games of the east Saturday and a continuance of rain was in prospect.

The sportsman's title, from a national point of view was the annual meeting between the championship Notre Dame eleven and the Soldiers from West Point in the Yankee stadium.

Yale and Pennsylvania, undefeated in the east last season clash at New Haven in their first contest in 32 years. Yale was the favorite.

Built for Rough Roads Better BUICK Closed Cars

Extra sturdiness is an outstanding feature of Buick motor cars.

Buick closed cars demonstrate this most strikingly in cross-country travel. Town or country, good roads or bad, it's all the same to a Buick. You can go anywhere any car can go and do it much easier because of the famous, 75 horsepower, Buick Valve-in-head engine.

You can travel long distances in more comfort because of the deep, wide, luxurious seats, the extra head and leg room, and full cantilever rear springs. And Buick's ball bearing, worm and nut steering mechanism removes all driving strain. This is the most efficient and most expensive steering gear so far perfected.

Better Buick closed models are now on display. Your attention is particularly directed to the 4-door and 2-door Fisher Body Sedans at "Coach" prices!

MULLEN'S AUTO

Walter Springer Suffers Slight Injury in Collision at Appleton-st Corner

Although the taxicab he was driving was tipped over and partially wrecked, Walter Springer, 721 N. Fair-st., suffered only a slight cut on the forehead in a collision at N. Appleton-st and W. Franklin-st at 8:30 Friday evening with an automobile driven by John Mullen, 127 S. Cherry-st. The Mullen car also was damaged but the occupants were unhurt.

Mr. Springer was driving southward on N. Appleton-st with a cab of C. F. Smith Livery & Transfer Co., and Mr. Mullen was headed west on Franklin.

The taxicab man thought the other driver would stop to let him pass but both machines continued on into the intersection and came together with a heavy crash. The taxicab was pushed across the corner and overturned. It was struck at the rear by the Mullen car, and it is believed this was what saved Mr. Springer from further injury. The driver carried no passengers, which he considered fortunate because they would not have been able to escape.

RAILROAD PAYS DALE MAN $2,500 FOR LOSING EYE

Walter Nemon Effects Settlement With Soo Line While Trial Is in Progress

Walter Nemon, Dale will receive $2,500 from the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railway company as compensation for the loss of his left eye in a collision Friday morning in a collision between a train and a car. Nemon was injured Sept. 29, 1924, when he was on the Soo line near Dale. A piece of steel slipped off a truck which he was using and flew into his eye. He started suit for $75,000 damages in the fall term of circuit court, and testimony was taken Wednesday and Thursday before jury went to the settlement made Friday morning.

Nemon testified that he was hearing a clatter when a spike mail and that on the second blow on the clatter a piece of steel from a mail slipped off and flew into his eye. He based his right to damages on the charge that the railroad company was negligent in furnishing him a spike mail which was poorly tempered. Testimony of four witnesses was taken to uphold his case. Dr. L. A. Youtz, head of the chemistry department of Lawrence college, testified that a spike mail which would chip in the manner in which the mail used by Nemon had chipped was not properly tempered. Dr. E. H. Brooks testified that he had treated Nemon's injury. He said that the piece of steel was still lodged in the back of Nemon's socket but that it probably would not cause him more trouble. Two fellow workmen of Nemon told the story of the accident essentially the same as Nemon had related it in his testimony. The railroad company maintained that it was not negligent and that Nemon's injury was suffered in the course of an ordinary accident which could not be called the fault of any party. It was said that ordinary mail had been used in the railroad and there was no way of telling from the appearance of the mail that it was not perfectly sound and well tempered.

CORN SHREDDING AND HUSKING IN PROGRESS

"The weather was mostly cloudy and cold with frequent light to heavy rains and snows. Farm work and the harvesting of sugar beets and late truck was delayed. Killing frosts and freezing weather were general over the state Saturday, but there was very little damage to outstanding crops. The husking and shredding of corn is in progress, and plowing and seedling, if well along. Winter grains and clover are looking well. Pastures are good considering the lateness of the season. Late potatoes are mostly dug. A few reports of rotting in fields were received. Tobacco continues to cure well. Apple picking is nearing completion. Yields are good. Soy beans are good. Buckwheat threshing is about to begin. Stock is in good condition. As the season closes, farm work and the growth of vegetation are in most sections somewhat ahead of the average."

TRAPPER MUST PAY $50 FINE

Stephensville Man Arrested for Trapping Muskrats During Closed Season

Edward Joerndt who lives near the Wolf river, at Stephensville, was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs, totaling $52, when arraigned in municipal court Friday morning charged with trapping muskrats during the closed season. Joerndt entered a plea of guilty and agreed to pay the fine sometime Friday. He did not have enough money with him to settle up when brought into court.

Joerndt had nothing to say in his defense, but some of his friends said he had been ordered by a physician to live an outdoor life, as he was in delicate health, and that as he was hard pressed for money he resorted to illegal trapping to earn a living. Joerndt had 28 muskrat skins in his possession.

AUTOIST NABBED WHEN HE HITS 55 MILES AN HOUR

Fred Schabo, route 6, Appleton must have been pretending he was Barney Oldfield or Ralph DePalma, Thursday, when he was streaking through the town of Grand Chute at 55 miles per hour. But his illusions were shattered when Andrew Miller, county motorcop caught up with him and offered him an invitation to join Outagamie co. speeders club. Schabo appeared in court Friday morning, and paid $14.20 dues. He was going much too fast to give the old abbi to Judge Theodore Berg, that he really was not doing much more than 30 miles an hour.

EVERY stretch of open water in America is now a speedway. The power boat parts the water as the motor cuts the wind—and youth is happy.

The builders of fast craft have made a dramatic appeal to the young folk of the nation. And the comfort they stow into the hulls has won the favor of the older generation as well.

Pictures of power boats in action in the public prints have caught the imagination of the people and sent it down the rivers into the lakes and the seas.

Liberal advertising plans have included plenty of photo-engravings, picturing cruisers and commuters and other types of speedy craft. The story of the power boat "in picture leaves nothing untold."

The American Photo-Engravers Association have organized the industry along the lines which make it of service to all that is progressive and constructive in American business.
